TAFT DECIDES TO GIVE TEN DAYS MORE TO OHIO FIGHT

President Continues to Flay Roosevelt in Desperate Effort to Capture Delegates in Home State.

Winchester, Ohio, May 8.—After consulting with republican leaders in Ohio, President Taft has decided to spend ten days more in the state before the primaries May 21. He will leave Washington next Sunday afternoon for Marietta, where he is to make his first speech, and he will not return again to the capital until Wednesday, May 22. Although the program for his campaign has not been worked out in detail it became known today that Mr. Taft will give most of his time to northern Ohio. He will have two "rest days," Thursday at Cleveland with only one speech scheduled, and that at night, and Sunday at Columbus, where he will go to church.

The last speech of the trip will be made at Dayton Monday night, May 20. On Tuesday the president will be in Cincinnati to vote and he will leave for Washington.

The president left Cincinnati at 6 o'clock this morning for the last days of his present campaign tour through southern Ohio. His schedule for the day called for stops at fourteen towns and cities, ending at Columbus, Ohio, tonight.

Looked Fit and Fresh.

President Taft began the second lap of his fighting tour of Ohio at Batavia. Although he did not get to bed at the home of his brother in Cincinnati until the early morning hours, Mr. Taft looked fit and fresh for the hard work ahead of him. The president started his speech making at 6:30 a. m. at Batavia and followed with talks at Mount Orab and Sardinia before reaching this town. A good sized crowd stood around the president's private car at Batavia. He kept up his criticism of Col. Theodore Roosevelt. "Mr. Roosevelt says I am distrustful of the people," said the president. "I am only distrustful of the people as a court, just as I would be distrustful of their building a bridge. I would send bridge engineers and people who knew something about bridges."

Taking up Mr. Roosevelt's proposal of the recall Mr. Taft said: "He is in favor of innovations and changes that would make the constitution worth little more than the paper it is written on."

Made Them Stop Train.

After Mr. Taft had spoken several minutes some one in his party signalled to the conductor to go ahead. As the engineer obeyed and the president saw his audience getting further away he called: "Stop the train." It was stopped and he talked several minutes longer.

At Williamsburg, an additional stop, the president again said he did not come seeking privilege because he was a son of Ohio, but only wanted justice.

"We'll give it to you," shouted some one.

"What about the pension bill and the soldiers," asked another as the train started to move away. "Well," said the president. "I can't talk offhand about pending legislation."

At Sardinia one of the features of the turnout was a woman's hand that played a lively greeting as the train pulled in and a hymn as it departed.

SAYS HE'S HERE TO FIGHT.

President Taft Declares He is Being Hit Below the Belt.

Portsmouth, Ohio, May 8.—"I am up against the wal land I'm being hit," shouted President Taft in a speech here today. "I'm being hit below the belt and I'm going to fight," he continued, and the crowd yelled with delight.

At Winchester, Seeman and Peebles, the president was speaking in Adams county where Judge A. Z. Blair disfranchised for several years nearly 2,000 men for being concerned in vote buying and vote selling, although he did not know this until later.

REGISTRATION FOR ALL VOTERS

Political Leaders Urge Voters to Register on the First Day.

INTERPRET THE LAW

The first registration for the November election will be held tomorrow. All voters who wish to cast a ballot at the general election will be compelled to register, and it is urged that as many as possibly can, do so tomorrow. The registration places will be open from 5 o'clock in the morning until 6 in the evening, and if there is a registration each five minutes after that time the polls will remain open until 8 o'clock.

Political leaders in Fort Wayne are endeavoring to impress the voters of the county that the registration tomorrow is not a party preference proposition, but that it is open to everybody who is old enough to vote, and who has lived in the state, city or precinct long enough to legally cast a vote, regardless of politics. The registration law has been interpreted in many different ways in Indiana, owing to the form of construction of the registration blanks, but leaders of all parties wish it understood that any man who is twenty-one years of age, or who will be that old by the date of the general election in November, if he has lived in the state long enough is eligible to register.

The question of registration of foreign born voters has been discussed freely by all who are interested in the matter and local politicians have defined the law ruling this question as follows:

Any man may register if he has lived in the country the required length of time provided he is naturalized, or his father had been naturalized. If he has not been naturalized and cannot give the date of his father's naturalization, he will be allowed to register if he declares his intention of becoming a legal citizen and takes out his first naturalization papers before the November election.

Three registration blanks have been submitted to the voters, one for the native born, one for foreign born and one for foreign born who has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States.

Must Register to Vote.

Political leaders and committeemen are exerting every effort to impress the voter with the fact that they positively cannot vote in November unless they register. The advisability of registering on the first day is also encouraged, as it is believed that the general tendency will be to put off the matter until the sixty-day registration or the six months' date. Those who wish to register must do so at the polling places in their precinct. Yesterday it came to the knowledge of Secretary John Wessel, of the county democratic committee, that many thought they were to register at the court house.

A meeting of republican precinct committeemen with party leaders will be held this evening at the office of County Chairman Houk for the purpose of finally discussing the registration tomorrow. The democratic inspectors and clerks met Tuesday night at Odeon hall, where an address on the registration of voters was delivered by Charles M. Niezer.

Former Steel Employe Uncovers Inside History of Destruction of the Much-Wanted Papers.

New York, May 8.—Further testimony to support the contention of the government that the American Steel and Wire company, one of the largest subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation, was in itself an illegal combination, was taken today when the hearings in the suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman anti-trust act were resumed before Commissioner Henry P. Brown. Harry A. Whitney, the first witness today, was called to tell what he knew of the disappearance of the trunk full of papers in the wire pool cases.

Whitney, who was connected with the Worcester works of the wire company and in charge, he said, of the company's operations in the wire rope association, stated that he had destroyed the papers in October and November, on orders from Frank Baackes, vice president of the American Steel and Wire company.

Among the papers destroyed, Whitney testified, were the minutes of the wire rope pool, the pool agreement and correspondence concerning its operations.

He was told before he destroyed them to take them to the office of George A. Cragin, a Worcester official of the company.

"When I got my instructions I told Cragin that I hoped I would not be asked concerning the papers and held responsible," continued the witness, "and Cragin said, 'if you are asked you

Judge Dickinson asked the witness if before the grand jury investigation into the destruction of the papers Cragin or Baackes had consulted with him as to what he was to testify to.

"Just before I went into the jury room," the witness testified, "Cragin said that Baackes wanted to see me. I went with Mr. Cragin to see him and Mr. Baackes said, 'Do you remember your instructions as to the destruction of the papers?' I said 'you told me to destroy them.' He said that he never told me any such thing. I was much disturbed by his answer for it put me in a bad

MARINE IS CHARGED WITH THE THEFT OF MRS. KNOX'S JEWELS.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—A marine aboard the cruiser Maryland, was arrested today charged with having robbed Mrs. Philander C. Knox, wife of the secretary of state, of diamonds valued at more than $2,000. The gems were stolen from Mrs. Knox during the tour of the secretary and party in Central America. Several of the diamonds were recovered from a pawnshop. They will be sent to Mare Island to be used when the marine is brought to trial.

MAYOR GAYNOR ON THE COURTS

New York Executive in a Plea for "Distributive" Justice.

SETTING ASIDE LAWS

New Haven, Conn., May 8.—William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, addressed the Yale forum last night on the topic "Are Our Courts Standing in the Way of Social and Economic Justice—and if So, by What Authority." Mayor Gaynor declared that in some instances the courts had used the constitutional clause guaranteeing that no man should be deprived of his life, liberty or property except by process of law to set aside good laws. The remedy, he said, was the recall of judicial decisions by constitutional amendments. He said in part:

"At the outset let me say that I do not wish to have what I say mixed up with the question of the recall of public officials. Our terms of office, other than judicial, are so short that there does not seem to me any necessity for a recall. We can recall them quick enough at the end of their terms by leaving them at home.

Opposes Threat of Recall.

"I do not think the threat of the recall should hang over any public official to compel him to do anything. Weak officials would give way to it, and do things which their sober judgment told them they ought not to do. That would be no more true of the judges, however, than of other officials.

"I do not rate the official department of the government as the most important. On the contrary, I think it the least important of all. Listening to mere private disputes day after day, which is the work our judges are engaged in, does not compare to the important work of our executive officials or of our legislatures. Of this I am very clear, that if there should be a recall of public officials, it should include the judges. I know of no reason to exclude them, especially in view of their long terms.

Distributive Justice.

"Perhaps the subject 'distributive justice' would as well fit what I have to say. Distributive justice means that

TEXAS RESULT IS STILL A PUZZLE

Will Require State Convention to Decide Republican Victor.

WILSON IS CERTAIN

Dallas, Texas, May 8.—It will require the state convention on May 28 to decide between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt as Texas' preference for the presidential nomination. Colonel Roosevelt had a substantial lead over Mr. Taft in the county convention returns received this forenoon, when three-quarters of the state's counties had been heard from.

Contests and uninstructed delegations, however, neutralized the effect of any lead for either candidate.

Corrected returns up to noon today gave Roosevelt 17 state convention votes; Taft, 45; uninstructed, 38; contested, 10. No conventions held and consequently not eligible for state convention, 17 votes.

Necessary to control convention, 127, provided full quota of votes cast. On face of returns to date 118 votes will rule. Votes yet to be accounted for, 72.

Wilson Leads Democrats.

Reports from all but thirty-six of 249 Texas county conventions held yesterday show that Woodrow Wilson has more than enough votes to control the state convention May 28. There are 623 votes in the state convention, 312 being necessary to control. Corrected returns to noon give Woodrow Wilson 42 majority for the state democratic convention and slightly cut the morning figures for Harmon. At noon the votes stood: Wilson, 354 votes in state convention; Harmon, 138; Clark, 43; uninstructed, 24;

DO NOT PUT IT OFF— REGISTER TOMORROW.

Under the new registration law in Indiana no man can vote without having previously registered. It is necessary to appear in person at the place where registration board holds session in precinct in which voter resides.

Blanks may be obtained at registration place or in advance at places where they have been left for distribution.

The first day of registration this year will be tomorrow, Thursday, May 9, and the hours are from 5 a. m. to 6 p. m. There will be two registration days later, Sept. 6 and Oct. 7.

A voter registers but once in precinct in which he votes. If place of residence is changed after first registration it is necessary to register at the September or October sessions.

MEN SHOT DOWN IN PITCHED BATTLE WITH STATE POLICE

Fatal Clash Between Officers and Crowd of 3,000 as Result of Coal War at Minersville, Pa.

Pottsville, Pa., May 8.—In a pitched battle between the state police and a crowd estimated at between two and three thousand men at Minersville early this morning, four men are known to have been shot and three were probably fatally wounded. It is believed that a dozen or more others were also struck by bullets, but were not seriously wounded and did not seek medical attention. A woman, Mrs. George Woll, who was standing on her porch, was struck on the arm by a brick and was painfully injured. The men who are thought to have been fatally hurt are:

David Davis, shot through the stomach.

Two foreigners not identified by the authorities at this time.

Another foreigner was shot through the leg and was seriously wounded.

Cause of the Fight.

The fight occurred on Fourth street in the central part of the town and came as a result of a crowd gathering in front of Ulmer's garage, the old electric light plant, to prevent Supt. Geo. W. Keiser, of the Pine Hill Coal company, from taking two men in his automobile to his colliery. Supt. Keiser had been coming to Minersville the past several days and taking Thomas Parry, a repair man, and William Ward, a pump man, to work in his car. This morning it was determined to prevent him from taking the men and at an early hour a big crowd gathered in front of the garage. When Supt. Keiser called for his machine he was warned not to take it out and was practically held a prisoner at the place.

Chief Burgess Richard Levan, a veteran of the civil war, addressed the crowd and demanded that they disperse peacefully, but no attention was paid to him.

Asks for State Police.

He thereupon requested the state police barracks at Pottsville to send a detail to Minersville to assist in preserving order. Three men who make daily patrols of that section arrived on the scene and shortly after were reinforced by four more from the Pottsville barracks. They ordered the crowd to disperse, but their orders had no effect. Under their guard the automobile was then taken from the garage and was being cranked when someone in the crowd threw a brick. It struck a policeman on the head. It seemed to be the signal for an attack and immediately there came a shower of stones followed by several pistol shots.

Officers Fire Volley.

The officers then fired a volley into the crowd. The crowd paid no attention. Raising their pistols, they twice fired into the air, but the only effect it had was to draw shots from the crowd. The officers then turned their weapons into the crowd and commenced firing. The shots were returned and a regular pitched battle followed in which it is estimated that a hundred shots were fired. As usual the firing resulted in the crowd dispersing, leaving four lying on the ground. David Davis was taken into the garage and physicians who were summoned pronounced his wound fatal.

The three wounded foreigners were carried away by friends and taken to nearby saloons where medical attention was also summoned. Little hope was expressed for two of them.

A detachment of troop D, state troopers, stationed at Butler, arrived here early this morning and a detail of twelve men was sent to Minersville. These with the seven members of troop C are patrolling the town and report that the lawless spirit is now under control.

Major Groome in Command.

Major John C. Groome, of Philadelphia, superintendent of the state police, is here and is in command of the troops. In an interview he said:

"The situation as I find it is peaceful. At present I have 86 additional well drilled men in Pottsville besides troop C.

"At Minersville this morning my men were compelled to shoot to protect both themselves and the men they were assisting. They now have the situation well in hand."

OLD MACHINE IS CAST INTO DUMP

Reorganization Democrats in Pennsylvania Are Victors.

ROUT FOR REGULARS

Harrisburg, Pa., May 8.—In the same hall where the regular republican organization of Pennsylvania was overthrown last week, the regular democratic state organization yesterday was swept out of power by the "reorganization" faction after a fight lasting nearly two years.

The "reorganizers' " victory was complete and no resistance was made by the regulars after the vote on permanent chairman of the state convention showed that their opponents controlled the convention by 110 votes to 73. The party has been split for more than a year and two state committees have directed the destinies of Pennsylvania's democracy.

The "reorganizers' under the leadership of George W. Guthrie, former mayor of Pittsburg; Vance C. McCormick, former mayor of Harrisburg and Congressman Palmer, named a complete state ticket, elected twelve delegates at large and twelve alternates to Baltimore and gave them binding instructions to vote for Woodrow Wilson "as long as his name remains before the convention;" selected six electors at large; adopted their own platform and ratified the selection of the "reorganizers" state committee in electing Mr. Guthrie state chairman.

The state ticket named is: Auditor-general, Robert E. Cresswell, Johnstown; state treasurer, William H. Berry, Delaware county; congressmen at large, George B. Shaw, West Moreland; Joseph Howley, Allegheny; George R. McLean, Luzerene and E. E. Greenawalt, Lancaster.

GOES FOR UNDERWOOD.

Jackson, Miss., May 8.—Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, carried the state of Mississippi in the democratic presidential primaries held yesterday. Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, was his only opponent.

Returns indicate that Underwood received a majority in three-fourths of the counties of the state and in nearly everyone of the eight congressional districts delegates favorable to him have been elected.

RECOUNT UNDER WAY.

Boston, May 8.—Recounts of the republican vote cast at the presidential primaries last Tuesday were continued in all parts of the state today. While no material change was shown in the vote for Roosevelt and Taft delegates at large, the recount indicated that an average of upwards of 15 per cent of the ballots intended to favor Taft delegates at large were invalidated through error on the part of the voter. The percentage of ballots spoiled by the marking of the name of nine candidates instead of eight on the Taft ticket ran as high as 23 per cent, the high marks being reached in New Bedford, where Crane, heading the Taft group was credited with 2,330 and 720 votes thrown out.

BLAZE WAS SMALL ONE.

At 11:45 o'clock this forenoon the fire department was called to the foot of Barr street, north of Superior, by a small blaze in a shed. It was quickly extinguished and the loss was not large.

"Chester," said Mrs. Durnell.

"Well?" pleasantly responded Mr. Durnell.

"Are you sure the ladies are invited to attend this affair?"

"Sure," responded Mr. Durnell, fumbling in his pocket for the invitation.

"It's very unusual," observed Mrs. Durnell.

"I know it, but this is a special affair," responded Mr. Durnell, and by that time he had the invitation in his hand. "See," he continued, pointing to the invitation, "it says: 'Yourself and ladies are invited to attend on the evening of June 3rd.'"

"June 3rd!" responded Mrs. Durnell. "Why, this isn't June 3rd. This is May 3rd."

"Well—wha—say,—now, don't you tell anybody about this and I'll treat you to a nice, big ice cream soda."

And he did.

"See?" he said.

position. I told him that I would have to tell what I believed to be the truth if called to the stand. Then Cragin told me that he was sure that it was he (Cragin) who gave the instructions."

"Did he say anything respecting your testimony conforming to his?" asked Judge Dickinson sharply.

"He gave me to understand——"

Here the witness paused and remained silent several minutes, apparently hesitating as to his next words.

"He seemed to be satisfied with what I was going to say that he had given the orders. He hoped that."

"Did he say anything as to your testimony conforming?" repeated Attorney Dickinson.

"I don't just remember the words Cragin used. I said to him, 'What can I do, when I believe Mr. Baackes gave me the orders?'" was the evasive reply.

Here one of counsel for the corporation interrupted and asked, "He didn't ask you to lie, did he?"

"No; he wanted me to avoid saying Baackes gave the instructions if I could. He said he had already testified that he (Cragin) had given the instructions."

Cragin, the witness said, in the course of his testimony, was the officer directly over him.

"You are no longer connected with the company, but you weren't asked to resign, were you?" asked R. C. Balling, counsel for the corporation.

"I was not," replied Whitney, who was then excused.

appealed to one man who was on the station platform at Seaman. "What's he talking to these people for?" he asked. "They're al disfranchised, anyhow."

By the time he reached Peebles, the last stop before reaching Portsmouth, the president had warmed up to his subject. "I am sai to represent the interests, to be under the influence of special privilege," he said. "Well let us see. There is no administration in the history of the government in which the prosecutions have been so uniform and have been so prosecuted without fear and so without regard to consequences. The interstate commerce commission reported against Dan Hanna, of Cleveland that he was accepting rebates. I put him before the attorney general and the district attorney and the grand jury, and they found an indictment against him, and now he is one of the patriots that is loudest in denunciation of me and strongest in support of Theodore Roosevelt.

But when I am charged with being under influence of the interests I have the right to fight back and defend my good name and the name of the administration. I followed the policies of Theodore Roosevelt and prosecuted all the trusts and I went a little further than that in prosecuting the steel trust and also the harvester trust. Now I ask you to give me a square deal."

MONROEVILLE IN DARKNESS.

Break-Down in Municipal Lighting Plant Came During Play.

Monroeville, Ind., May 8.—Monroeville was plunged into darkness last night after the hour of 9:10 o'clock by reason of a defect in an engine of the municipal lighting plant. It failed to work and for the remainder of the night the town was without lights.

The play, "The Silver Queen," which was being given by local talent, the young people of the St. Rose parish, at the church, had been in progress of production for about an hour when the lights went out and its further presentation had to be abandoned. Owing to this fact it was announced that it would be given Saturday evening of this week.

BURGLAR WORKED CLERGYMEN HARD

Fellow Caught in Shields Store is Probably William Kelly.

HIS ROOM IS LOCATED

Papers discovered today by Detective Sergeant Pappert in a room in a hotel on South Calhoun street, indicate that a young burglar caught early this morning in the Shields clothing store is William Kelly and that his home is at Pittsburg.

He had recently been at Hot Springs and he has a number of letters from Catholic clergymen asking that favors be extended to him. One is from the vicar general of St. John's Catholic church at Hot Springs, asking employment for him as a waiter.

He arrived in Fort Wayne Friday and put up at the hotel as H. G. Martin, and had a suit case containing a good suit and some other clothing. He had not paid anything for his room and had no money when he was captured.

In the city court today he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of burglary and was held under the name of William J. Davis to the circuit court. His bond was fixed at $1,000.

He told Watchman Ed Brockmeyer, who captured him, that his name is Martin, but he declined to tell the police his right name and said he would not give that or his address. He is apparently pretty shrewd, but evidently new in the burglary game.

He said that he played ball with one of the teams in the Ohio-Pennsylvania league last season and that he came here for a trial with the Terre Haute club, but Manager Aggie Grant said he did not apply to him for a job.

He and Watchman Brockmeyer were snapped for The Sentinel today and when he was asked to "look pleasant," he answered:

"What for? I ain't so ——— tickled to have this picture taken."

He gained entrance to the store by throwing a piece of tile through a window in the fire alley between the building occupied by the Shields store and the one immediately north, climbed on top of a fence under the stairway at Calhoun street and entered on top of the shelving and scrambled down behind the counter near the front of the store.

The tile he threw struck a plate glass show case and shattered the top. When the watchman discovered him he was crouched behind the counter and had just unloaded his pockets of a collection of ties, handkerchiefs and other small articles.

Brockmeyer had been in the store an hour before and on his second visit he noticed a rain coat lying on a chair. He had not seen it there on his previous visit and this led to an investigation. Davis had laid the coat out ready to take when he got through. He had ransacked the cashier's desk and this helped to lead to his detection, as the presence of the coat that caused the officer to look around.

When Brockmeyer switched on a light he found his man crouching behind a showcase and he covered him with his revolver. He threw up his hands and began to whine, saying that he was in an awful shape and wondered what would become of him.

Brockmeyer was proud of his achievement, but said he felt sorry for the young fellow. He will be held by the police for a time and an effort made to identify him. He said he lived in California, but would tell nothing more.

He is about 20 years old, well dressed and has some education. Pitcher Joe Doyle, of the Terre Haute team, worked in the O.-P. league last season and he said he did not recognize the man.

The Other Cases.

A plain drunk who gave the name of Clem Ensley and who did not appear was fined $5 and costs and the bond money taken to pay it.

Thomas Ryan, a crippled tramp who got out of jail a day or two ago, was drunk and insulted several women. He drew $5 and costs.

Jack Jones was also fined $5 and costs for public intoxication. This is not his right name and his arrest grew out of the fact that he interfered with an officer who was arresting Pete Doenges. Doenges was drunk but was allowed to go.

Jim Wier got out of jail here, went to Decatur and got drunk there, served a term, got out and came back here and got drunk again. He was allowed to go on his promise to get out in the country and go to work.

Pete Stronig, a foreigner who had a big gun and who said he came here from Decatur to look for work, was fined $5 and costs for carrying concealed weapons and his gun was destroyed by order of the court.

Bud Slater was staggering and was a little drunk, but said that a leg that recently had been broken was more responsible than booze so he was let go.

Local Company to Be Represented at Big Convention at Seattle.

The Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company will be represented at the annual meeting of the National Electric Light association which is to be held at Seattle from June 10 to 14. Included in the Indina membership of the organization are most of the concerns engaged in the lighting business. Just who will represent the local company is not known at this date. Preparations are being made in more than 1,110 cities throughout the United States for holding a record convention, and more than a dozen special trains carrying delegates will be run over various roads to Seattle.

TAFT LEADERS MUM.

Will Not Declare Plans Regarding Maryland Vote.

Baltimore, Md., May 8.—The attitude of the Taft leaders in Maryland toward the peculiar situation that might develop through the working of the new state primary law was still undecided today and still the subject of some speculation. While the delegates elected to sit in the state convention appeared on the primary ballots with no designation to indicate their affiliation, complete unofficial returns indicate that leaving the matter of instructions aside, a majority of them will be personally friendly to the president. Some of the Taft leaders say there will be 68 such Taft delegates to 61 known to favor Roosevelt.

Although the unofficial returns declare that the counties and Baltimore City by their preference votes have instructed these delegates to choose a delegation to the national convention bound to vote for Roosevelt, the Taft leaders, according to their claims, could control the organization of the state convention and the personnel of the delegates. The Roosevelt leaders assert that they have no fear such a complication would rob them of the fruits of the victory they claim on the preference vote.

The Taft managers have made no statement beyond the declaration that they will not concede the national delegation to Roosevelt until the official canvas supports the result of the unofficial count. No application has been made thus far for a recount in any county.

The figures complete for the republican vote and practically complete for the democratic, show that the preference vote of the state as a whole was as follows:

Republicans—Roosevelt, 291,124; Taft, 26,009; Roosevelt's majority, 3,115.

Democrats—Clark, 34,283; Wilson, 22,436; Harmon, 7,168; Clark's plurality over Willson, 11,847.

ROOSEVELT GETS KANSAS.

His Forces in Complete Control in Sunflower State.

Independence, Kas., May 8.—The republican state convention which was called to order at noon today to name four delegates at large to the national convention endorsed the candidacy of Col. Roosevelt for the presidential nomination and instructed the "big four" to vote for him from the first ballot to the last. Wm. Allen White, of Emporia, was endorsed for national committeeman. The make up of the delegations appeared to be Henry J. Allen, Wichita; Ralph Haris, Ottawa; John Landon, Independence, and Ansell Clark, of Rice county.

Early today a telegram addressed to the convention was received from Senator Dixon, manager of the National Roosevelt bureau urging the convention to name United States Senator Bristow and Gov. Stubbs on the "big four." Bristow wired from Washington again that he would not permit himself to be named adding that officeholders should keep off the delegation and give place to the workers. Gov. Stubbs, too, was firm in his decision not to be a delegate.

Fred Stanley, of Wichita, was temporary chairman and Gov. Stubbs permanent chairman.

HELPED HUNT UP TITANIC VICTIMS

Deputy United States Marshal O'Donnell on His Way Back Home.

VISITS OLD FRIEND

Ed O'Donnell, deputy United States marshal for the western district of Michigan, was in the city a few hours today after a trip east in which he helped hunt up evidence in the congressional investigation of the Titanic disaster.

He has been in the service nineteen years and stated that he will resign as soon as he reaches home, to make the race for sheriff of his county. Mr. O'Donnell was brought into the Titanic case by Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, who is a close personal friend and who called the deputy to Washington because he knew he could trust him.

Mr. O'Donnell stated that most of his investigations were of a confidential nature and that the evidence he secured is the property of the government and he did not feel that he could conscientiously discuss it.

He was in Washington, New York and Boston summoning witnesses, taking depositions and spent a busy three weeks working on the case.

He had about two hours to stop in Fort Wayne and during the time he was here he renewed his boyhood acquaintance with Member E. J. Lennon, of the board of public works. Both originally came from Jackson, Mich., but they had not seen each other for a number of years.

Mr. O'Donnell held his office through all of the administrations of practically two decades and is quitting the service so he can run for office.

SHE DREAMS OF BURIED RICHES

Old Indiana Woman Always Sees Pot of Gold in Ground.

THINKS IT'S THERE

Indianapolis, May 8.—Sylvester Johnson, the "oldest inhabitant," has received a letter from a woman in the eastern part of the state who lived here contemporaneously with the Sanduskys, who were the original settlers of the spot. Since leaving she has repeatedly dreamed of a pot filled with coins and things buried in what is now the heart of Irvington. The pot always contains the same treasures and is always buried in the same spot, so she is convinced that there is something in it.

More than a dozen years ago Jumbo Hodgins, a colored man of Irvington, when doing some trench work along the National road near the J. T. Layman place, unearthed a curious foreign coin which puzzled even the numismatists. Here centers tradition.

Many years ago, so the story goes, when the old National road was in its glory and travelers were pouring over it from the east, a stranger, for some unknown reason, stopped and spent several days at the old Quill Parker tavern that stood in Washington street just opposite the large easel which now displays the impressionistic picture if Kin Hubbard's house. He had with him a small trunk covered with the hairy skin of a speckled calf, and it was afterward remembered by the hired man who carried it in when it arrived that the piece of luggage was unusually heavy.

The stranger spent most of the time wandering around with a hoe, and from a hint or two that he let drop it was concluded that he was prospecting for a good place to locate a ginseng "factory."

One night the mysterious stranger fell sick and died, leaving no clew to his identity, and he was buried in the little graveyard.

The hair trunk being broken open was found to contain little else than a change of clothes and a few scraps of paper, and it was then noted that it was very light, whereas it had been very heavy.

WORSE THAN OLD MAIDS, HE SAYS

Indiana Voters Will Be Chary About Giving Their Ages.

SO AT LOGANSPORT

Logansport, Ind., May 8.—"I look for a small registration tomorrow said George B. Davis, democratic chairman of Cass county today. "The farmers cannot see the need for the law and they say that they are not going to leave their work to register.

"Others, and these are city voters, don't like the idea of telling their ages. Some of them are worse than old maids. You may laugh about this but it is a fact—one of the biggest oppositions to the law is the fact that the voter is required to tell his age.

"Three men who have personally told me that they will not register because they will have to give their age."

BADLY INJURED IN FALL.

Noble County Young Lady Brought to Fort Wayne Hospital.

Columbia City, Ind., May 8.—Miss Pearl Ott, daughter of Fred Ott, who resides in the vicinity of Meriam, across the line in Noble county, met with a frightful accident about five o'clock Monday evening, at the home of her parents. She was standing on a chair hanging up some hams when she lost her balance and fell. In the fall one of the uprights of the chair penetrated her body, inflicting a dangerous wound. Dr. Briggs, of Churubusco, was called and after making an examination, decided that her life depended upon an immediate operation, and she was prepared for the trip to Fort Wayne and taken over in an auto, and an operation was performed that evening at the Lutheran hospital.

The operation was a severe one, but there is a chance that the young lady will recover.

BURGLARS STOLE RARE OLD BOOZE

Broke in Avilla Saloon and Their Only Booty Was Bottles of Twenty Year Old Whisky.

Avilla, Ind., May 8.—The first robbery of the year in Avilla occurred early yesterday morning when unknown parties broke into the place kept by Charles Schlotterer and secured a number of bottles of twenty years old whisky valued by the proprietor at $60. In effecting an entrance the burglars broke a large plate glass in the front window.

The fellows were evidently not professionals, as in breaking the plate glass they used a heavy piece of railroad iron. Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Ueber, who reside over the saloon, were awakened, and before the thieves had the opportunity to ransack the place and search for money they were frightened away, their only booty being the whisky, which, however, was probably considered by them as a great prize. There is no clue as to who the thieves are. Mr. and Mrs. Ueber could not recognize the parties, but were able to see two black figures dart east and cross the Grand Rapids & Indiana tracks.

THE SALOON AT ROME CITY.

The Man Behind the Bar Will Be E. E. Routsong.

Albion, Ind., May 8.—Considerable of the time of the county commissioners at their sess-on here this week was spent in the consideration of the granting of liquor licenses to applicants at Rome City and Kendallville. E. E. Routsong, of Rome City, applied for a license to operate a saloon at the summer resort town and as there was no fight against him the commissioners granted a license in short order. The decision in regard to the four applicants for one saloon at Kendallville was not such an easy matter. Finally, however, the commissioners decided in favor of Edward Young and the latter started home happy. The other three men were disappointed and down-hearted.

Robison yesterday morning, in a communication to Mayor Frank Smith, declined to accept an appointment from the city council as councilman from the ward to fill a vacancy caused by the removal from the city of Lewis Staver, who was the regularly elected councilman. Dr. Robinson gave as a reason for his refusal to accept the position that he has not the time to give the duties of the office the required attention.

OPPOSES LITERACY TEST.

Letter From Cardinal Gibbons Is Read at Mass Meeting.

Baltimore, Md., May 8.—A letter from Cardinal Gibbons expressing opposition to any educational test as applied to immigrants desiring to enter the United States was read at a mass meeting here last night to protest against the passage of immigration bills in congress providing for a literacy test.

"Such a law, if passed," the cardinal said, "would in my opinion work great harm, for illiteracy is by no means ignorance. If the immigrant is industrious and thrifty he will make a useful citizen whether he be literate or illiterate. The educated schemer is in more ways than one more dangerous than the honest workman, even though he be illiterate."

POOR STUDENTS IN MAJORITY.

Cincinnati University Proves It is Not an Institution for Rich.

Cincinnati, May 8.—Statistics given out by President Charles W. Dabney, of the University of Cincinnati, show that a large percentage of students come from families in moderate circumstances, against the general belief that the institution was made up of students from the families of the rich.

A canvass of a representative body of the students revealed the fact that only 5 per cent of the students come from what would be termed wealthy families. Seventy-five per cent come from families whose income is less than $2,500, a rather unusual circumstance in a municipal institution, such as is this university.

Thirty-five per cent of the student body come from families whose income is less than $1,500. Eighteen per cent come from families whose income is from $2,500 to $7,500. Nineteen per cent of the students are fatherless and are being sent to the university by widowed mothers.

DEFENDS STORAGE EGGS.

Declares They Are Better Than the Fresh Laid.

St. Louis, May 8.—"If you want good eggs in the summertime, sell those laid by your chickens and buy cold storage eggs."

This is the advice of R. H. Tait, of the Tait-Nordmeyer Engineering company.

"Many people think storage eggs are inferior to those just laid," he said. "But this idea is wrong.

"Storage eggs are better than fresh ones. They have a more nutritious, pleasing flavor and are more nutritious. And one can pove this. Eat eggs laid in August and then eat storage eggs. The first mouthful will convince you the storage eggs are the best.

"Storage eggs are produced and stored in March and April, when the hens are at their best. As the weather gets warmer the condition of the hens deteriorates, and also the quality of their eggs."

DEATH REVEALS SECRET.

Woman 92, Had Many Unworn Beautiful Gowns.

Newcastle, Ind., May 8.—Mrs. Ellen Lowe had a secret which she kept from her most intimate friends until she died at the age of 92. When an inventory of her personal property was made it was found that she was the owner of beautiful dresses, lingerie and millinery. None of her friends could recall ever seeing her wear anything but plain, serviceable dresses, and why she bought so many handsome silk gowns and laid them away unworn is a mystery.

PIGEON LOVES OLD HOME.

Makes Frequent 400-Mile Trips to See Imprisoned Mate.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—Wavering between home instinct and love for his mate, Albeto, a carrier pigeon, has traveled 2,000 miles, flying back and forth between its old loft at 3800 Sheridan avenue, this city, and Iowa City, where his mate is locked up, in the endeavor to get her to follow him back to Minneapolis.

Fred May sold Albeto and his mate two years ago to R. W. Wales at Iowa City. Albeto escaped his new home two months ago and flew to Minneapolis, then becoming lonesome returned to Iowa City and landing outside the loft crooned for his mate. Five times he has made the trip of 400 miles.

"Albeto is a wise bird," said May. "He remembers his old racing days and is wise enough not to get 'trapped in.' A racing bird when he gets home flies into the loft and a bob wire falls and holds him until the counter mark is removed. Albeto knows this and stays outside and calls his mate."

Unusual is the case of Leo V. Hastings, who is suing the New Orleans, Albany and Natchez railroad for $100,000 damages. While flagman on a log train in Louisiana he was caught between two cars which he was coupling, and as a result he is a hopeless paralytic. His claim is based on the assumption that a brilliant career has been blighted.

GERM LADEN DUST CAUSES CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm Kills the Deadly Catarrh Germs. No Stomach Dosing.

Catarrh, which is bad enough in itself, often results in loss of taste, smell and hearing, and leads to serious throat and lung troubles if not promptly checked. The seat of catarrh is usually in the back of the nose, and its natural course is downward, into the throat and thence to the lungs.

Don't take any chances. If you have any symptoms of catarrh—stuffed up feeling in the head, nasty discharge from the nose, sore throat, or dry, hacking cough, get a fifty cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and begin the treatment at once.

This remedy is not a "burning out" or "drying up" process. It is simply a cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm, taken through the nostrils back into the head and throat where it instantly reaches the seat of the trouble. That's the only way to effectually and permanently cure catarrh.

Catarrh makes you offensive to yourself and friends. Start using Ely's Cream Balm today, and in a short time you will be permanently cured of this nasty, disgusting disease. Meyer Bros. Co.

Don't Fail to Register Tomorrow.

Tomorrow—Thursday, May 9—is the first day for registration of voters under the new Indiana law, and not only is registration an absolute pre-requisite to voting this year, but it is important that voters embrace the earliest possible opportunity to register. Three registration days are provided, it is true. There will be another registration day in September, and a third in October, but it may be impossible for you to register on either of those occasions—or you may forget it. Do it now.

Do not overlook the fact that registration is obligatory upon every voter. It does not matter how well you are known in your precinct or how many years you have voted there. The Indiana law now says that in order to vote you must have registered. If you fail to get your name on the official list on one or the other of the registration days, you will be denied the right to cast a ballot in November—and this is one of the years when every man will want to vote. Do not allow a failure to register to disbar you from this right.

Registration headquarters will be opened in every voting precinct early tomorrow morning. They will close at 6 p. m. Blanks may be obtained at the registration place, or at other points where they have been left in advance for distribution. These must be filled out, supplying the personal data of the voter demanded by the state law. If you do not move out of the precinct before election day, one registration will be sufficient. If a change of residence places you in another precinct, however, it will be necessary to register in your new voting precinct on one of the subsequent registration days. But take no chances on a later registration. Register tomorrow.

The new Indianapolis municipal commission has been completed by the selection of H. J. Milligan as the board of trade representative on that body, other members including A. E. Metzger, of the Commercial club, C. H. Badger, of the Merchants' association, J. H. Furnas, of the Manufacturers' association, and Richard Lieber, of the Indianapolis Trade association. The commission, repreing commercial bodies, proposes to study city problems and hopes to be of service to the city authorities in an advisory capacity in dealing with municipal affairs. Complaint has long been made that business men of acknowledged standing and capacity cannot be induced to enter politics as candidates for municipal office, but here is an opportunity for Indianapolis to benefit by advice and suggestion of men of this type if it cares to do so.

The evidence is now pretty conclusive that Floyd Allen rigged himself up like a battleship with bullet-proof armor before he staged his portion of the shooting at the Hillsville court house. Mr. Allen may have been reading some modern fiction dealing with knights of old that supplied the inspiration for his armament. It appears to have been effective against return fire, but his coat of mail did not prevent his capture. To have been completely a dime-novel hero, he ought to have figured some way out of that.

Most of us were as anxious to learn the stipulations of the will under which John Jacob Astor disposed of his millions as though we half expected to find our names in the list of legatees when the document was brought to light. It will be observed, however, that nothing of the sort happened.

The fisherman vote may as well get ready to bolt. Leaders in congress have decreed that in the interest of economy no money will be expended in establishing fish hatcheries in Indiana this year.

It must be admitted that Uncle Sam is going into that steel corporation suit in a manner that indicates high hopes of striking pay dirt early in the proceedings.

THAW CASE BECOMES A TOPIC IN THE PRESS.

His Mother.

Brooklyn Eagle: "If Thaw should be liberated and fulfill the expectations of the physicians by attempting to kill some one else, the situation of his mother would be even worse than it is now. This is a case where Thaw should be saved from his friends."

Money.

Rochester Democrat-Chronicle: "It is announced that a large sum of money has been made available for the purpose of obtaining Thaw's release, and there are abundant precedents for the assumption that proceedings looking to placing him at liberty will be active as long as the money lasts."

Society.

Boston Post: "But what does the public sentiment of New York state say about it? Does it believe that a man who escaped the chair by the plea of incurable homicidal mania should be pitchforked into society again?"

Accessories.

New York Times: "Inasmuch as there can no longer be any reasonable doubt of Thaw's incurable insanity it is proper to ask how far those who aid and abet his attempts to get out of Matteawan will be accessories to the crimes he will commit."

Menace.

Albany Knickerbocker Press: "The campaign being waged to obtain the release of Harry K Thaw from Matteawan is a reflection upon the court system of the state and a menace to the equal administration of justice."

THE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

(Grand Rapids News.)

Senator Henry L. Myers, of Montana, has now before the senate committee on agriculture and forestry a bill providing for the appropriation of money for the construction of state and interstate highways and post roads, a measure which goes much farther than any other yet introduced during this session of congress seeking to provide for the maintenance of properly improved public roads. If enacted into a law, it will be beneficial to many states in enabling them to have excellent highways, even though they may be unable to pay up their pro rata share of the expense therefor.

The Myers bill proposes to enact that sums equal to the amount provided for and expended by any state for the construction of state or interstate trunk-line highways in or through the state, plus such amount as is needed to make post roads throughout the thickly settled sections of every state, where ten children are deprived of school privileges for two months during any year and where free delivery of mail is omitted or delayed on account of bad roads, are to be paid therefor by the treasurer of the United States on demand and the presentation of proper authorities and vouchers.

Those highways are to be surveyed, located and decided on by Uncle Sam's engineers, acting co-operatively with state engineers, the roads so selected to be improved being chosen in such a way that they will connect with surveys through other states to form transcontinental highways. In the same manner, the post roads are to be located so as to connect with other post roads that must be used daily by children in attending the rural public schools of the states.

The appropriations for these highways are to be available for any state, whenever it has provided the funds to pay one-half of the cost of constructing those highways—excepting the case of post school roads, which are to be made possible for mail, and for school children over six years of age during the school term.

Enterprise in educational highway matters is to be duly recognized, for precedence in giving federal aid for post roads is to be shown invariably to those states giving elementary instruction in the value or results of improved roads together with the elementary principles and practices of road making, such as their location, grades, drainage, maps and profiles, construction and maintenance, narrow and wide tires, and some kinds of roads and machinery necessary for the use of road-builders in all of the public schools of those states.

WOMAN OF 90 A SPARTAN.

Suffers in Silence From Injury, Fearing to Alarm Sick Daughter.

Burlington, N. J., May 8.—Fearing that a cry for help would alarm her sick daughter on the floor above, Mrs. D. A. Eyre, 90 years old, suffered from a broken hip two hours before a son-in-law returning home found her in a critical condition. Mrs. Eyre had been nursing her daughter, Mrs. Mary Thompson, and had been at her bedside twenty-four hours without rest.

In starting downstairs from the sick-room she stumbled and fell to the bottom of the steps, fracturing her hip. Stifling her desire to cry out from the pain the injury caused her, she called assurance to the woman in the sick-room, and to keep her from worrying told her she was too busy to come upstairs at once.

THORN IN LONG JOURNEY.

Travels From Woman's Elbow to Ankle in Twenty Years.

Cincinnati, May 8.—A locust thorn, a half inch in length, after traveling in the body of Mrs. John Reichert, wife of City Detective Reichert, for twenty years, came out at the right ankle. The thorn was as green as on the day it entered the left arm at the elbow. In its slow but steady traveling the thorn, by some remarkable chance of fate, did not touch a vital spot.

When Mrs. Reichert was a little girl in Bracken county, Kentucky, twenty years ago, she fell and drove the thorn into her arm. A doctor succeeded in taking out what he thought was all of it, and nothing more was thought of the matter until recently. Mrs. Reichert said she had never felt the thorn until it appeared.

LOSES HOME AND FAMILY.

Man, 101, Flood Victim, Now Depends on Charity.

St. Louis, May 8.—Joseph Meyer, 101 years and two months old, who served through the Mexican and civil wars, and who has lost six children and a chicken farm by floods, has started to a Chicago institution of charity with 5 cents in his pocket. He declared yesterday he would cover the distance afoot.

After the Galveston tidal wave had killed his two sons and four daughters, Meyer gathered what remained of his $30,000 fortune and started a chicken farm at Hickman, Ky. The flood there last month destroyed his chickens and everything else he had.

He was born in Berlin in 1811 and, according to his story, has not eaten a pound of meat in twenty years.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"MADAME X."

Two Performances at the Majestic Theater on Saturday.

"Madame X," Bisson's famous melodrama which Henry W. Savage is soon to offer here, is a play credited with having made a more lasting impression and created a greater sensation than any theatrical attraction during the present generation. That this play electrified even blase Paris for over a year is now well known, as is also the fact that Mr. Savage was able to secure the American rights only by being in the French capital when "Madame X" was first produced, thereby circumventing the plans of a dozen American managers who made liberal offers the morning after the news of its sensational success had been cabled everywhere.

"Madame X" both in theme and development is far off the beaten track pursued by playwrights recently, and its appeal to the emotions is well-night irresistible.

In the famous court room scene, of which so much has been published, the striking situation is presented of a son being appointed by a judge to defend his own mother on trial for murder.

Her guilt is known to the audience, hence when her son arises to plead for her it constitutes a scene of wonderful impressiveness and rare appeal. He is ignorant of the fact that she is his mother and she of her relationship to the man fighting for her freedom. She, because of a desire to prevent the story of her misfortunes ever reaching her son's ears, refuses to speak a word in her own defense, and on account of the mystery surrounding her is only known as "Madame X."

ASTOR WILL IS PROBATED.

Former Wife Gets Bare Mention in One Clause of Document.

New York, May 8.—The will of the late Colonel John Jacob Astor, the features of which were officially announced Monday night, was filed in the surrogate's court for probate yesterday.

In the full will practically the only clause which did not appear in the abstract given out Monday night is one in which Mr. Astor mentioned his former wife, Ava Willing Astor. This clause reads:

"All my estate, by a certain antenuptial agreement, dated February 18, 1891, between myself and Ava Lowle Willing and William Astor and Caroline W., his wife, I give to my son, William Vincent Astor and to his issue."

In the petition accompanying the will is the statement that the "real estate is in excess of $10,000" and "the personal estate in excess of $10,000." Estimates of the true value of the estate have placed it at not far from $100,000,000.

William C. Adams, who was operated on Sunday at the Lutheran hospital, is improving.

LOCKWOOD MAY ENTER THE RACE

Would Run If Republicans Declare for County Local Option.

MARION MAN'S STAND

Marion, Ind., May 8.—Col. George B. Lockwood, editor and publisher of the Marion Chronicle, in a letter written to Walter Ball, editor of the Huntington Herald, has thoroughly indicated his position in the matter of his being a candidate for the office of governor of Indiana. While the letter does not amount to a formal announcement of his candidacy, yet Col. Lockwood plainly makes it known that he will enter the gubernatorial fight under certain conditions.

To make a long story short, Mr. Lockwood will be a candidate if the republican party in general shall become united, and if a plank pledging the party to county local option is written in the state platform.

Col. Lockwood's letter was written in response to a communication from Editor Ball, in which the latter expressed what he believed to be the majority of sentiment among the republicans of Huntington county and in which he requested the Marion editor to state his position.

Mr. Ball informed Col. Lockwood of a canvass he had made among the republicans of Huntington county and wrote that the preponderance of opinion was in favor of the republican party in Indiana making a fight for the re-enactment of the county local option law.

Says Its Tentative.

The Marion editor said that in replying to Mr. Ball's letter he did not make a formal announcement of his candidacy, but indicated what his position is and that under right conditions he will become an active candidate.

"There are two things necessary before I should go out as a candidate," said Col. Lockwood. "One of these things is, I must have the republican party as one piece behind me instead of its being in two pieces. The other is there must be a plank in the platform declaring for county local option. If I have these two things, I shall be glad to meet the fight."

The numerous friends of Col. Lockwood in this city for some time have been expecting him to dip his pen into the ink stand and write the words that would let the public know he is a candidate. It also has been expected he would make the race only on a platform declaring for county local option.

The Marion editor has been one of the leaders in the fight against the licensed saloon in Indiana and has been a strong advocate in behalf of county local option. Throughout the long, bitter liquor fight in this county and city Col. Lockwood in person and through his newspaper has fought the saloon and liquor traffic and was chief among the moving spirits behind local reform measures and crusades. Col. Lockwood formerly was private secretary to former Vice President Fairbanks and former Governor Durbin.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE.

A simple home treatment that makes the hair long, wavy and lustrous is to dry shampoo frequently with a mixture of four ounces of orris root and an original package of tiferox. Sprinkle a tablespoonful on the head; then brush thoroughly through the hair. All dirt, dust and dandruff will be removed, the scalp refreshed and the hair made clean, light and glossy.

A lovely, soft and youthful complexion will be yours if you use a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch hazel. Gently rub over the face, neck, and arms night and morning, and the skin will be clear, smooth, fair and pliant.

To stop headache, or ache in back or joints, reduce swelling, allay inflammation, relieve pain in any part of the body, apply Mother's Salve. The world never saw its equal as a pain killer.

Any woman can easily and quickly remove wild hairs from face or forearms. Just mix enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairs; apply and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

Cascarets Surely Straighten You Out

No Headache, Biliousness, Upset Stomach, Lazy Liver or Constipated Bowels By Morning.

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway through these alimentary or drainage organs every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them. adv everybody will be dealt with justly as a member of society. Prosperity does not depend alone on the amount of the total product of the industry of the community. A just distribution of the total product among those who produce it is also necessary for prosperity. This does not mean share and share alike, but to each according to his mental or physical work, or both, in producing the general result.

"You cannot place everyone on a level, and give to each the same share of the total product. That would do away with all zeal and emulation, thereby greatly decreasing the total product. Everyone under such a system would be trying to do as little as possible. The result would be a small product, and general poverty, if not famine. The ideal system would be for everyone to get what he actually earns. That would leave the whole field open to competition, and competition has been and always will be the mother of excellence in all things."

The mayor then said that this "distributive justice" of which he desired to speak included everything. It included proper wages, the hours of work the conditions under which work should be done, the safety of the workers, and the compensation and care of workers who are maimed in their work by the dangers incident thereto. He said that in recent years the courts had stood in the way of these things.

MEN SHOT DOWN IN PITCHED BATTLE WITH POLICE

tack was feared upon Supt. Keiser and the men working there. It is announced that when additional reinforcements arrive the entire foreign section of the town will be put under guard, until a thorough search is made of every house and every foreigner is disarmed.

One Pathetic Incident.

A pathetic incident of the shooting of David Davis is that his wife is seriously ill. When she learned of the shooting of her husband, who was merely an onlooker, she had a relapse. Neither is expected to survive the day. Davis was shot entirely through the body, the bullet passing through both lungs.

One of the foreigners who will die has been in the country but two weeks.

WORTHY OF GREAT MONARCH

King of Sardinia's Tactful Manner of Concealing Kindness Done to Impoverished Follower.

The King of Sardinia, Charles Albert, was very kind and obliging to the French royalists who were at Turin. The Duke of P——, with whom he was connected, had an employment about the court—he had been severely wounded, and lost a leg in the affair of the Three Days. The king heard that the duke was anxious to visit the king and royal family at Prague, but that his finances were not favorable to so long a journey. His majesty, therefore, thought of an expedient which would enable the duke to gratify his loyalty, without his feelings being wounded.

"Duke," he said, "would you do me the favor to choose some horses for me in Bohemia; and as your best way will be through Prague, of course, you will pay respects to the royal family there."

As the journey was on the king's service, the duke could feel no reluctance about having his expenses paid.

COURIERS WARN PEOPLE TO FLEE

Louisiana Flood Torrent Sweeping Into New Territory.

SCENE PITIFUL ONE

New Orleans, May 8.—While armies of relief worked among thousands of the homeless in Louisiana's flooded territory today, workmen engaged in strengthening those levees which still remained intact, continued their task.

This forenoon there has been no breaks in the dikes, but the flood waters continued to spread over new territory. The torrent from the crevasse at Torras reached New Roads today and hundreds of people in territory that had been considered safe from the oncoming flood now are endangered. Couriers have been sent into the water-menaced country warning the people to flee.

The situation at New Orleans remained unchanged today. The river had risen four-tenths of a foot in the last 24 hours and it is believed the crisis will be reached here within the next two days.

Engineers say the levees guarding the city will hold strong against the stage forecast.

Scenes Are Pitiful.

It is believed by those in charge of flood relief work that practically all the flood-marooned inhabitants of Point Coupee parish will have been rescued by the end of this week. Texas and Pacific railroad officials say their road has transported about 7,000 people from points along their line in the upper part of the parish. The Texas and Pacific station at New Roads is crowded with white refugees waiting to be taken to the relief camp.

Among them are four women who were rescued near Morganza. They had stood in water several feet deep for nearly three days when boatmen reached them. Th women who were on the verge of collapse when rescued lost everything except the clothing they wore. On another seat in the station was a gray-haired farmer, who wept and sobbed like a child. His home was wrecked, his crops destroyed and all of his cattle drowned. Now he is penniless.

BRYAN CONTINUES FIGHT ON HARMON

Invades Ohio to Assail Him as Choice of Wall Street.

HE HAS A NEW LETTER

Toledo, O., May 8.—Col. Wm. Jennings Bryan made an early start today on his second day's speech-making tour of Ohio in which he is opposing the nomination of Gov. Judson Harmon and advocating that of a progressive. His train left here at 3:30 this morning and the day's speech-making was begun at Norwalk at 7 o'clock.

Col. Bryan, in his speech at Findlay today, said that since coming into the state he has obtained a letter in evidence that Gov. Harmon is favored by Wall street. He said:

"I have stated that as late as February, 1908, he still hoped to be the Wall street candidate for presidetn that year. I am now prepared to add that as late as June, 1908, his friends hoped to nominate him at Denver, notwithstanding that two-thirds of the delegates had been instructed for me. His friends tried to purchase delegates in Ohio who had been instructed for me. I do not say that Mr. Harmon authorized his friends to buy delegates, but I challenge him to deny in writing that his friends did try to buy votes. If any one will furnish me with a written denial signed by him, I will produce the letter, of which I have a copy, showing that the money which was to have been used to purchase delegates was to come from New York and the men who were to furnish it were prominent in Wall street. Mr. Harmon was then, as now, the choice of Wall street."

LOVERS OUTWIT COURTS.

Lafayette Man Gets Marriage License After Many Trials.

Lafayette, Ind., May 8.—That love laughs at courts of justice as well as locksmiths, was shown here today when Frank Cantrell, who for the last five years has been trying to obtain a marriage license in Lafayette, went to Danville, Ill., with Miss May Davis and succeeded in obtaining the much desired license to marry. Cantrell has applied many times for a license here and has each time been refused. An inquiry as to his sanity is now pending before Judge De Hart of the circuit court here. Cantrell returned with his bride today.

AN AFTERNOON PEDRO.

The Overwrought Nerves.

Fresh air will string up any group of nerves not hopelessly demoralized. When you feel that "flying to pieces" inclination overtaking you, jerk yourself to order with the check rein of determination and then, if you cannot regain self-control, stop anything on earth you may be doing and go out of doors. If you cannot leave the home, lean out of a window, or step for a little while on a porch. You will not lose any time—you will, in fact, gain time by increasing efficiency in whatever you may be doing. Sleep also is a great restorer of nerves to a normal tone, and sleeping with all windows open secures for us two nerve cures at the same time. In foods, raw onions, carrots, lettuce and celery, with plenty of olive oil, are excellent nerve foods, all valuable as aids in the good work, but the chief remedy is strong will and the compelling of your body to obey your mind.

Hoffman—Hoffman.

No more beautiful wedding of the season has taken place than that of Miss Emily Rosenkrantz Hoffman and Mr. Edward George Hoffman, democratic chairman of the Twelfth congressional district and county attorney, who were united in marriage on Tuesday evening in the First Presbyterian church by Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat, pastor emeritus of the church and a lifelong friend of the bride's family. The guests at the church were limited to relatives, out of town guests and a very few personal friends of the bride and groom. In the bridal party were Mrs. J. J. Kline, a sister of the bride, who was matron of honor; Miss Jessamine Sale, Miss May Jewell Smith, of this city, and Miss Edith Tewkesbury, of Irvington, N. Y. The bride's cousin, Mr. H. Brook Sale, was master of ceremonies and Mr. Charles H. Pidgeon was the groom's best man. The bride entered the church with her brother, Mr. Frederick E. Hoffman, who gave her in marriage. The guests were seated by Messrs. John Hoffman, C. L. Parnaby, Walter A. Barrett, W. F. Peters, Dr. Leslie, Alex Boyd, of Philadelphia, and Samuel Royce, of Terre Haute.

As the guests arrived Mr. J. B. Archer, organist, played a program of favorite selections of the bride and the customary bridal music from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered the auditorium. Pink and white, the colors selected by the bride for her wedding, were colors of the bridesmaids' gowns which were made of rose color charmeuse satin with white net tunics and considerable embroidery of silk and crystal beads. The matron of honor, Mrs. Kline, whose wedding took place just four weeks ago, wore her wedding gown of white charmeuse and looked very lovely. The bridesmaids carried large round bouquets of pink sweetpeas that matched the color of their gowns and ornaments of pink tulle and rhinestones in their hair. The matron of honor carried bride roses and wore an ornament of white similar to those worn by the bridesmaids. The bride made a beautiful appearance. Her gown was a white charmeuse, of directoire mode, veiled in chiffon that was draped high on one side. The train began at the high waist line and fell in long graceful folds. The bodice of the gown was hand embroidered in floss and seed pearls and there were insets of fine old lace that the bride's mother had worn on her wedding gown about the V shaped neck. The bridal veil of tulle was fashioned into a cap held partly by orange blossoms and the bride's bouquet was of lilies of the valley and orchids made in shower effect. The bride wore a brooch of diamonds and pearls, the groom's wedding gift. A large and brilliant reception was held at the home of the bride, 720 West Berry street, after the bridal party returned from the church. Receiving with the bride and groom were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Anna Hoffman, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Hoffman, brother and sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kline and Mr. C. H. Pidgeon, the groom's "best" man. In another part of the room were an uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hoffman; Mrs. Margie Evans, of Salem, Va.; Miss Edith Tewksbury, of Irvington; Miss May Jewell Smith, Miss Jessie Sale, and a number of ladies who assisted in introducing strangers and ushering to the rooms where Gasper of Chicago served a collation were Mrs. G. M. Leslie, Mrs. Walter Mellick, Mrs. H. B. Master, Mrs. H. Brooke Sale, Mrs. Lee Ninde, Mrs. Asa Grosvenor, Mrs. Creighton Williams and the Misses Clara and Virginia Carnahan. The house was extremely artistic in decoration, the work of the Misses Flick. Every room and the porches, inclosed for the occasion, were beautified with flowers. All the downstairs rooms were trimmed with mountain laurel, an effective and graceful shrubbery not native to this part of the country, and the archways, mantels and fireplaces were nearly hidden by it. In the bay windows stood very tall wicker baskets filled with long branches of pink and white snapdragon and white flowering almond. All the decoration was arranged high so nothing of the charming and spring-like effect was lost after the rooms were filled with people. Tall handled baskets filled with the snapdragon, flowering almond and apple blossoms stood or hung wherever a place suggested room for them and plumosus and laurel veiled the chandeliers. Many tall white candles, unshaded, stood in all the rooms and their mellow light seemed especially fitting to the laurel and flowers. In the diningroom wall vases and baskets were filled with pink, white and yellow snapdragon and on the table on which stood the bride's cake was yellow iris and pink roses. The stairway was garlanded with branches of apple blossoms. Young's mandolin orchestra played in the upstairs hall. During the evening the bride changed her bridal costume for a tailored one of black and white cloth trimmed with black satin facings and large silk buttons with which she wore a tailored hat of tagel braid. The bride and groom have gone to Leland, Mich., to spend their honeymoon. On their return they will be at home at the Hoffman residence in West Berry street for the summer, or until the home they are building near the Country club is completed. The bride is the younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoffman and has always occupied a place of distinction in society. She is of an ingenious nature and has a big outlook on life and its possibilities. The bridegroom has won his professional and political honors by his ability and by reason of his personal popularity. Mr. Hoffman was graduated in law from the University of Michigan and has an established law practice in the firm of Ballou, Hoffman & Bomberg. Among the guests from out of town were Governor and Mrs. T. R. Marshall, Secretary of State Lew G. Ellingham and wife, Judge and Mrs. A. A. Adams, all of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, of Brookston; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mercer, of Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sweeney, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. George Wall, of Lima, O.; Mrs. E. H. Coombs, of Detroit, Mich., and Miss Clara Kenower, of Huntington.

Mrs. E. H. Kirkland Will Bring the Laughs as Frau Kirschwasser in "Romany Maid."

"Ven he beat dot drum mit a rub-dum-dum
My heart beat louder yet,
For he looked at me mit a meaning glance
Und a smile dot I can't forget.
O de piccolos played und de trumpets brayed,
Und de moosic sure vas some;
But de man for me mit his heart full of glee
Vas de man mit de big bass drum—drum-drum;
De man mit de big bass drum.

So runs the refrain of the song Frau Kirschwasser will sing at the beginning of the first act of "The Romany Maid," the new comic opera to have its premiere on next Tuesday night at the Majestic. The song is descriptive of the love of a German village maiden for a young Swiss regimental bass drummer and is written in military style with chorus in unison.

Following the unfortunate accident which prevented Mrs. E. H. Kirkland from appearing last year in "The Red Letter" Mr. Archer set about to plan for her a similar part in his new opera. And so in the role of Frau Kirschwasser with her inimitable German dialect, this talented singer has an eccentric comedy role that will give her audiences a genuine surprise. She brings to the role an abundance of humor, a fine understanding of dramatic values and lives the part. Her scene with the old general whom she has elected for her second husband is uproariously funny and everything she sings, says or does is followed by a wake of laughter.

Mr. Herbert says that Mrs. Kirkland's portrayal of Katisha in "The Mikado" has never been equaled by an amateur and would rank very high on the professional stage.

MRS. E. H. KIRKLAND.

Apollo club subscribers will be given a special reservation Thursday morning and the public sale is on Friday. While the advance sale has been large it is believed that the three nights performance will enable everyone to obtain seats.

The entire "Romany Maid" company will hold its first rehearsal at the Majestic tonight.

LITTLE JOURNEYS INTO FASHION LAND.

The new sunshades have all been designed extraordinarily high. They will allow for any extravagances in the way of trimming. Some of them are shaped like a tulip upside down; others remind one of Chinese pagodas with the corners turned up in true oriental fashion. No doubt a set of bells will follow in due course

Some extraordinary designs have been seen which are intended to give a touch of gayety to a scheme in black satin. On the panels of the sunshade there were sketches by artists, and for once there will be something new for the sun to shine on—when shine it does

The new veil goes in for sober restraint and a novel sanity. It is becomingly fine, unspotted and unpatterned, and will not disguise the features in the grotesque fashion of its predecessor. On the other hand, it, too, has its disadvantages. It is the fashion to fix it tightly to one's hat with jeweled pins, and rather than embark on the unpinning process many fashionable young women prefer to go luncheless.

Stranger than the new sunshades, more disquieting than either the tall hat or the tight veil, is the sudden reappearance of the collar. For two years we have revelled in a free and easy collarless condition. Today there has come out a new turndown affair very high at the back and slightly Byronic in outline at the throat. This fairly comfortable arrangement is the thin end of the collar wedge

It paves the way for the Valois collar, the starched Henri II and the Medicis atrocities. Already many small wired editions of the latter have been seen which attained quite a respectable height at the back. This means a long farewell to the carefully carless knot farewell to the carefully careless knot foreshadows hats with brims turned up abruptly. The vista is not alluring, but no doubt we shall think very differently, as usual, when we get there

HATS MADE OF NET.

Since it was discovered that net could be made of a less perishable type than the delicate fabric of long ago, hats trimmed with indestrictible net figure largely in the new millinery schemes.

By using contrasting colorings of net very pretty effects are gained, but the one that wins the greatest approval is a harmony in black and white It has been thoroughly exploited in many ways of late, but never seems to lose its prestige.

Crepe de chine is being used to make very beautiful hats, welcome to those who are weary already of the employment of taffetas for millinery purposes. Finely corded silk of the bengaline persuasion is also liked, and makes a suitable brim facing, a little less hard and glaring in appearance than that produced by glace silk.

One of the smartest traveling hats seen recently was entirely covered with scarlet and green tartan silk with flyaway bows at the back. The description sounds somewhat startling, but the cleverness of the designer and the skill with which the idea was carried out made for complete harmony

Now is your opportunity to purchase high-grade millinery at going out of business prices.

The Girl Who is Natural

Little brother Bobby says the difference between big sister Helen in her curl papers and kimono at breakfast, and big sister Helen in her curls and shiny silk dress in the parlor is so great it's just like having two sisters.

In the morning she uses plain English, just like other folks, but in the evening, when new beau arrives she has a new voice and accent. At breakfast she boxes Bobby's ears and calls him a "mean kid," but when the new admirer arrives, little brother is a "mischievious little darling."

Bobby's sister Helen has two sets of manners, plain or garden variety for use in the heart of her family, and company or hothouse variety that wither the moment the door closes on the person she wants to impress. There are a lot of big sisters just like Bobby's Helen. They have a veneer or pose they can assume or lay aside as they would a mask. Fortunately, very few of them are clever enough to keep "within the character" past the marriage altar. Those who do are seldom happy because the moment husband discovers he has purchased a gold brick, he makes his awakening a matter of family knowledge three times a day and begins to scheme for an early and painless delivery from his one sided bargain.

Two Sets of Manners.

A girl who wears a soiled, worn out, tumbled dress to the home breakfast table and has the whole family helping her hurry into something decent looking, when she hears the man's step on the front stoop is going to make that man pretty generally miserable. The chances are marriage will relieve her of any responsibility she may have felt in keeping up appearances, and the soiled kimono will often extend through most of the day. Run-over heels, gaping belt lines, armies of protruding pins are all so many danger signals in the marriage market.

Talking is Superlatives.

Many men have declared against the girls who use high power adjectives with the same recklessness they do rouge and powder puffs. To resort to superlatives is the surest acknowledgement of a lack of material with which to create interesting conversation.

The girl who is "awfully glad to meet you," and "terribly sorry to have missed you so long," is resorting to subterfuge to gain interest and approval. Generally she is deadly dull in her everyday clothes with no one looking.

Being painfully precise about the trite little conventions of the world of today is another pose the natural girl will avoid. Convention must be tempered with reason and whether all the formalities of social life are observed or not matters not so much as whether the girl's heart is clean and kind and the man's intentions are right and good.

If you are a girl with a plain home, never be apologetic. Every girl's home is her palace and she should treat it as such. Take the false note out of your voice, relax your body, set easily in your chair and be assured that nature will take care of your charm and grace problems.

Refinement is the result of a kind heart and an active brain, and cannot be unmasked.

Ma—How did you meet with such an accident?

Willie—I called Reddy Ryan a mutt.

Irrigation by sprinkling is being tried in California, and is meeting with favor, the only drawback being the cost of installation, which comes to about $150 an acre. For offset it saves the cost of leveling the ground, as is required for irrigation at grade, and it is said that by turning on the spray during a cold night the air can be kept above the freezing point.

HELPFUL HOUSEKEEPING HINTS

To clean white paint dip a clean flannel in hot water, wring it out and make it into a tight roll. Rub in soap and dip in pipeclay. Use no soda. Go over the white woodwork bit by bit. Polish it with washleather. Clean all wood furniture, especially old furniture, with scrupulous care, with several washings of lukewarm tea. Then polish it with a mixture of one part olive oil, one part gin and one part vinegar. Some persons pin their faith to one part of boiled linseed oil and vinegar only. Others, again, add a little turpentine to the latter mixture.

All upholstery should be treated with canes, brushes and dusters. Old tapestry and brocade covers are cleaned by rubbing over with a piece of stale bread.

Rub the glass over pictures with a damp rag, and remove any marks with methylated spirits. Then polish them with leather. Gilt frames you brighten with water in which onions have been boiled.

The beautiful color that is the feature of Florentine picture frames can be restored with the beaten whites of eggs—say three—into which half an ounce of soda has been stirred. Apply the mixture with a soft brush.

Every leather chair must receive its quantum of attention, the morocco being treated with white of eggs put on with a sponge and allowed to dry on. Clean down all the walls with a broom, the bristles being covered with white linen.

To Wash a Carpet.

To wash the carpet thoroughly you will require a bucket of warm water, a cake of carpet soap, a piece of house flannel, and, if you are going to tackle a fair-sized piece of carpet at once, a supply of dry cloths.

Do not begin near the door, as you may require to leave the room for fresh water, and it is unwise to walk on the carpet when damp. Make up your mind to do without the room till all is dry. Start washing as far from the door as possible, and work toward it. The flannel is put in the water and a portion of the carpet well rubbed.

It must not be overdone, only wetted sufficiently to secure a good lather by rubbing the carpet soap ball well in. Then with the clean, wet flannel remove the soap. Rinse the flannel well afterward, so that it is quite soapless when you begin again on another fresh piece.

No soap must be left in the carpet when the final rubbing commences.

There are a number of very particular housekeepers who would be horrified if told that their bedrooms were not cared for properly, that they were unhygienic and often the cause of headaches or other illnesses. Yet many a housekeeper, in her eagerness to get through her morning's work quickly, neglects to give the beds and bedrooms their proper airing, sunning and cleaning.

Care of the Bedroom.

In the first place, a bedroom with a southern exposure should always be chosen, if possible. If this cannot be, light and air should be considered above all things.

The housewife should see to it that the furnishings of the bedroom are of the simplest. A brass or enamel bed, a bureau or dressing table, a few chairs and perhaps a small stand, besides the screen used to shield from drafts, are usually all that are deemed necessary.

Floors of hardwood are conceded to be the most sanitary, with rugs which can be taken out and shaken frequently. If there are curtains, they are plain and of spotless white—the kind that can be easily and frequently laundered.

The windows in the bedroom should be open at all times from the top and bottom, in order to let the foul air escape and a current of fresh air flow constantly into the room. They should be open all day and also at night if one wishes to get the strength and vigor derived from breathing deeply of the fresh air. The screens can always be adjusted to shield the sleeper from drafts.

The busiest housewife should never be too busy to air thoroughly the bed clothes each morning.

A personal item of interest is the recent announcement in a Manila newspaper that a Filipino, Dr Sison, has been made chief of the medical staff of the Philippines general hospital, the greatest hospital in the Orient. Both Dr Sison and his wife, who is also a native of the Philippine islands, were graduated from the University of Pennsylvania medical school in 1908

WOMEN TITTERED WHEN MAN SPOKE

But Listened When Told Better Way to Keep House.

MADE WORK EASIER

Kansas City, May 8.—A mere man stood up before 200 women in the Y. W. C. A. lecture room and told them how to keep house. When he addressed them as "fellow-housekeepers" some of the women tittered.

"Well, I am a housekeeper," he said, "and it's a man's job."

It was Charles Barnard speaking, and, in truth, he is a housekeeper, for he is the superintendent in charge of the National Housekeeping Experiment station at Dariem, Conn. All that's newest in the art of keeping house is first tried out by Mr. Barnard and his assistants, and if it's good the world is told about it.

"Housekeeping Efficiency" was Mr. Barnard's subject, and the women who smiled out loud when he introduced himself remained to ask questions when he finished.

"Eighteen million women get up every morning in the United States," he said, "and 18,000,000 women get up with sour faces at the very thought of it.

"Woman's work is a drudgery handed down from mother to daughter, the antiquated systems of years and years ago still prevail, and that's why the kitchen is the bane of a woman's existence."

Mr. Barnard knows that this should not be—because he tried it. After years of experimenting he has found that household cares may not be cares at all, but pleasures.

"Women have created a bad household system," he said, "while the men were out trying to make a living, and men have suffered for it. Those thinking men who applied shop efficiency to the factory with such success have begun to ask the women why they don't apply the same thing to housekeeping—and now they are.

"Housekeeping efficiency means doing the work in the best way with the least amount of labor. The first principle of it is conserving your own vitality. Never stand up to do what you can sit down and do. Take it easy, with recesses for rest, and the housekeeper, whether a servant girl or the mistress herself, must have a mind free from worry. The servant girl should have a pleasant room, and the kitchen should be a place of peace and quiet.

"Wasted steps and wasted motions make housekeepers slaves to drudgery. I knew a woman who had to walk a hundred feet to get to her refrigerator and in my own home, before we applied the rules of efficiency, the maid had to walk sixty feet twice to make and serve a single cup of tea.

"It took forty steps to cut and serve a plate of bread. By a slight rearrangement of doors we put the kitchen three feet from the dining room table, and by keeping the bread knife, the bread plate and the bread all in the same place we reduced that effort to the minimum.

"A wheeled serving tray makes waiting on the table and cleaning away the dishes a matter of a minute's work. Our breakfast is cooked on this serving tray right beside the dining room table and there is no walking about at all for that simple morning meal."

The greatest of labor saving utensils, Mr. Barnard declared, is the fireless cooker. He also enumerated the many advantages of vacuum cleaning.

Mr. Barnard urged economy in the kitchen and said: "Half the causes for the high cost of living are found in the waste of the kitchen. Even hash, if it is made right, is a great delicacy."

DEMOCRATS WILL SWEEP THE STATE

This is the Prediction of Governor Thomas R. Marshall.

VOTERS WITH HIM

Declaring that his endorsement for nomination at the Baltimore convention came entirely unsolicited on his part, Governor Thomas R. Marshall, who was in Fort Wayne Tuesday night, believes that Indiana delegates to the national meeting will stick by him, rendering all the support possible for his presidential nomination. Mr. Marshall declared also that he does not intend going into other states on a campaign tour, and adds that there is every reasonable prospect for his nomination if the contest continues among the active candidates for the presidential honors.

"I look for another democratic victory in Indiana," said Mr. Marshall. "The prospects arise particularly from the division in the republican ranks. The only possible chance for the republicans lies either in union in the party or betrayal of the people on the part of leading democrats. It seems to me that the republican factional fight now in progress marks the disintegration of the old republican party, and I believe that in four years the republicans will emerge as a new party."

Democracy is Strong.

Governor Marshall's view relative to Indiana democracy and the chances for his own nomination are held by Lew G. Ellingham, secretary of state, who was also a visitor in Fort Wayne Tuesday night for the Hoffman-Hoffman wedding.

"Reports from not only county chairmen, but precinct committeemen as well, are most encouraging and indicate unerringly that democracy's victory next November will greatly exceed in magnitude that of two and four years ago," said Mr. Ellingham.

In speaking of Governor Marshall Mr. Ellingham said that he will have at his command the best working organization ever sent from Indiana to a national convention. He also stated that the Twelfth district voters will be nobly supported in the cause of their honored son, who has already demonstrated his efficiency as a man for the people.

QUEER CASE OF BIGAMY.

Former Soldier Is Accused of Marrying Same Woman Twice.

London, May 8.—Charged at Westminster, Edward Thomas Howe, formerly in the army, admitted having twice bigamously married Florence Gertrude Marshall.

It was alleged that in the first bigamou ceremony sthe prisoner gave the name of Bash. Two years ago, it was stated, he went through another ceremony with Miss Marshall in the name of Howe, assigning as the reason that the first ceremony was in the false name in which he had enlisted in the army.

When arrested at Chelsea, a detective said, the prisoner remarked: "I've been expecting it. When I have been sitting at home with the children, every knock at the door alarmed me with the thought that some one was coming to take me." Pointing to the second wife, he said: "She has been a brick to my children. Now, mate," he continued, addressing her, "you will be free to look after them." A remand was ordered.

ASSESSED ON 23 DOGS.

Sullivan, Ind., May 8.—James Bradbury, a painter of this city, has the record for the number of dogs owned in Sullivan. Alvin Haddon, township assessor, visited Bradbury's home to assess his property and was met at the front veranda by a yelping pack of dogs. The taxman counted twenty-three. The assessor listed each of them, but he found this difficult without "kicking some of them around." Bradbury's dog tax alone will cost him more than $40.

MYSTERY MAN OF ACADIA—WHO WAS "GEROME" OF TRIESTE?

Fifty Years Ago a Legless Man Was Marooned on the Coast of Nova Scotia by a Mysterious Ship * * * For Fifty Years the Man Spoke But Two Words * * * And These Two Words Are the Only Clue to a Riddle of Fate That is as Baffling as the enigma of the Man in the Iron Mask.

Digby, Nova Scotia, May 8.—Acadia's legless man of mystery died here the other day and with his passing Death sealed a mystery as hopeless of solution as the mystery of the Man in the Iron Mask.

Two slender clews were all that might help to solve this mystery. Two words: "GEROME;" "TRIESTE."

For over fifty years the only possible source of other clews was the legless man who uttered those words, the first in August, 1861, the second some years later.

For over fifty years that man kept his silence. Saving these two proper names, no word passed his lips in all those years.

The legless man came from the sea. He was marooned on the beach here in 1861, landed from an unknown ship that beat into the harbor and sent a dory ashore, then put promptly to sea again.

A few hours later, in a sequestered inlet, fishermen found an unconscious man on the beach, lying just above the tide line. A bottle of water and a few ship's biscuits were found by his side.

The man's legs had been cut off—apparently only a short time before. The flesh of the stumps was still raw.

To all questions the stranger was silent till old Rudier Comeau asked him his name in Italian.

"Gerome," was the reply.

Then the castaway lapsed into silence. From that day till he died half a century later he spoke but once, and then only to ejaculate "Trieste" when someone surprised him with the question, "Where did you come from?"

He accepted gratefully the food and shelter that the Comeau family gave him. He chopped wood for the household, wielding the ax powerfully and with skill.

Though he came from the sea, there was nothing about him to mark him certainly as a sailor. The Arcadians believed him to be an Italian, but they never did know.

Always his eyes were bent seaward. Day after day he watched the horizon. And when a strange vessel hove in sight a faint flicker of interest was kindled in his inscrutable eyes.

But a strange sail was the only thing under heaven that held any interest for him. If he had any hope in life it was the sea that veiled it.

And when at last he came to die he passed as grimly as he had lived. Not even in death was his tongue loosed to tell anything about the strange prank that fate had played with his destiny.

There only remains questions—questions that inevitably arise, and as inevitably go unanswered.

Who was "Gerome?" Some political refugee? The captain of a mutinous crew? A pirate chief, deposed and cast out by a more powerful rival? Or merely a common sailor, accidentally crippled and cruelly marooned to get him out of the way?

In 1861 the American civil war was beginning; the war of Garibaldi was in progress in Italy and the islands; the Austrians, the Italians and the French were quarreling over the Italian states. Did these events have any bearing on the strange fate of the legless man?

Is there today in the port of Trieste, on the Austrian Riviera, somebody, aged wife or son or daughter, who looks out over the Adriatic, hoping against hope for the return of "Gerome?"

HAIR CUT JOKE; BURNS HOUSE.

Boy Confesses Six Attempts to "Get Even" With Sisters.

Goshner, Neb., May 8.—Will Whittaker, 15 years old, son of a Dunkard minister, confessed to Deputy State Fire Commissioner Ironton that he has set fire to the home of his parents six times.

He said that the act was prompted by a desire to hide thefts amounting to $35 from his parents and to "get even" with his sisters, who laughed at the style of his hair cut.

The boy pleaded guilty before the county judge of Seward county, was sentenced to six months in jail and then was paroled. In each case the boy was active in putting out the fires.

PARENTS AID ELOPEMENT.

Runaway Bride Calls Pa and Ma to See Her Married.

New York, May 8.—What sort of an elopement is it when the bride runs away and then refuses to be married until papa and mamma can be called over the telephone and told to hurry up and get there in time to see the ceremony?

Whatever sort it is, it's the kind that Miss Sidonia Meirowitz decided to have when she ran away with John Jerome Feigenbaum. The elopers first went to the city hall and got a license and then drove to the home of the Rev. Dr. Brachman, who lives in the house with Mr. Feigenbaum. Everything was ready for the ceremony when Miss Meirowitz said there positively would be nothing doing until she telephoned home.

"Is that you, ma?" she said. "Well, John and I are eloping—eloping, I said—and if you want to see the wedding you better come right over to Dr. Brachman's. Now hurry."

So Mr. and Mrs. Meirowitz were best man and matron of honor at their daughter's runaway marriage. The new Mrs. Feigenbaum was a stenographer at the Hippodrome. She and her husband are spending their honeymoon in Philadelphia.

BLOW AT SECRET WEDDINGS.

Jersey Law Makes "White Light" Elopements More Difficult.

New York, May 8.—Copies of the new law governing fly-by-night weddings in New Jersey were distributed to the city clerks of the state. This new law provides that at least twenty-four hours must elapse from the time the marriage license is obtained until the ceremony is performed, and it also requires that at least one qualified witness shall be present to vouch for the accuracy of the statements in the license.

Heretofore it has been easy for a couple eager to get married without the knowledge of their friends—and frequently without the consent of their parents—to slip across from New York or Brooklyn, and after about a twenty-minute stay in the office of some justice of the peace in Jersey City, Hoboken, Bayonne or other city close by be made man and wife.

Often a little extra compensation to the person who married them would seal his lips, and the married couple would return to their respective homes, happy in the thought that their marriage would remain a secret until they felt disposed to reveal it.

SEPARATED 50 YEARS; WED.

New York, May 8.—A romance with a half century intermission culminated today in the marriage of Charles Stillman, aged 69, and Mrs. Kate Noble, age 63. They were sweethearts in Buffalo fifty years ago, and Stillman went to Tyndall, S. D. Both married and lost trace of each other. Stillman's wife and Mrs. Noble's husband died fifteen years ago, and Stillman wrote to Buffalo for information of Mrs. Noble. He found her with her son B. H. Noble, at 860 Hunts Point road, in the Bronx. Four children of each witnessed the ceremony there today.

BASEBALL ATHLETICS

MANAGER LINES UP STAFF AND GIVES STRAIGHT TALK

Must Pitch the Kind of Ball He Wants Them to Pitch Or He Will Know Reason for Refusal.

Manager Francis Joseph Shaughnessy lined up his battery men today and sent them through another drill on how to play baseball and he gave each and every pitcher on the staff to understand that he must pitch the kind of ball the leader wants him to pitch. If this order is not complied with there will be some inquiries.

The manager insists that he has a good ball club and that he can win in the Central league, but to accomplish this he must have the support of the pitching staff.

"With men on second and third and a good or even a fair hitter up don't groove the ball. Pass him rather than put the ball over the plate," is one of the first lessons the manager gave. This has not been followed out and it has done a lot of damage. Holding runners on the bases and a good movement to first is another thing the manager tried to instill, but it didn't stick and has to be done all over again.

If the instructions of the manager had been followed the four runs scored in the sixth inning of yesterday's game might have been saved. Clancy and Loudell let one runner get on first on a grounder that should have been an easy out. Clancy could have beat the runner to the bag but he tossed the ball to Loudell who muffed it.

Then the pitcher took another wild heave on Gust's grounder and with men on second and third Calbert came up. He has been hitting like a wild man here and with Grant, Mahoney and Waring, none heavy hitters, to follow, Loudell put one through over the plate for the outfielder and he landed on it for a hit and two runs. He had much better been passed because a hit meant two runs anyhow and the three next men up were not as apt to make one as the fellow who did register.

Up to the sixth the battle was one between pitchers and was a dandy good conflict replete with good ball playing. Joe Doyle was in good form and he held the locals runless until the seventh when two were made on bases on balls to Fabrique and Blount, and hits by Vandagrift and Shaughnessy.

Charlie Alberts was sent into bat for Renfer in the ninth and opened with a hit and had it not been for some bad pitching in the first half that gave Terre Haute seven runs Fort Wayne might have won the game. Renfer breezed the first two men up and then Pick beat out a grounder. Fabrique kicked in with a boot and Pickering was hit by a pitched ball. A base on balls to Calbert forced over one run.

Then somebody tried to get a straight one past Aggie Grant who is so weak on curves that the bat boys in the Central league know all about it. Aggie crashed into the ball for two sacks and Mahoney hit for a single and Doyle for a double and there was no use after that.

Notes of the Game.

Keener hit to the right field bank and Pickering dropped the ball but picked it up before the umpire saw the error and the batter was called out.

Umpire Geisel, who has been doing good work here, got a rap over the heart with a foul ball and was down for a while. He was still dizzy after the game.

Gust and Doyle made a good play on Blount's grounder in the first inning.

Aggie Grant hid the ball on Loudell, and after he got the runner off the bag he tossed it past Gust and the runner got an extra base.

Rain fell in the ninth inning and it was really too dark to play with safety, but the umpire kept them at it.

Loudell looked good for six innings.

Doyle put on the best exhibition of pitching that has been staged here this season.

Fabrique's error in the ninth was costly. It was not a hard chance but he overran the ball a bit and then the rally followed.

Joe Doyle was warming up, "Bubbles" Hargrove was catching him and Jack Snyder was up and Harry Martin was behind the bat with Umpire Geisel back of the catcher when Photographer Standish made his maiden efforts with a Graflex camera. This combination is the result of his three shots.

He has used most every kind of a camera that is made, but he had never operated one of the variety used by The Sentinel in its pictorial records of current events and he wanted to try it out. The pictures show that his debut was a successful affair as all of the pictures were taken with the men in action and none of them was posed for.

BIG UMPIRES IN LITTLE LEAGUE.

HARRY TRUBY. HARVEY PASTORIUS. JOE O'BRIEN.

Believing that if big men are not the best umpires, they at least exercise a psychological effect upon belligerents, President R. W. Read, of the Ohio State league, has signed as umpires three of the largest men he could find, who are supposed to possess the other qualities as well.

The Ohio State is a six club league and its fans have never been noted for their kindly feelings toward arbitrators. Police protection is not always adequate and Read wanted men able to handle emergencies.

In the above trio he has huskies. Truby is 5 feet 10½ inches in height and weighs 195; Pastorious is 6 feet 1 inch and weighs 185; O'Brien is 6 feet and weighs 192.

WILL REALLY BE OPENING.

Shamrocks Were Cheated Out of Their First Local Game by Rain Man.

If the rain man does not interfere again the game on Sunday between the Shamrocks and the Huntington team will really be the opening of the season, as the teams were cheated in their first effort to get things going.

"Stub" Wentz, carded for the other game is also down on the list for this one and Blakey will oppose him with Hofer behind the bat. The Shamrocks are after the state championship and with their present engagements they will have an opportunity to battle for it.

There is a big revival in semi-pro fields and most of the clubs are out with new uniforms and plenty of good backing in sight.

HOGAN IS OUT OF THE GAME.

Marty Hogan, who as player and manager of baseball clubs is known throughout the world of sport, has engaged in business in Youngstown, having purchased an interest in a saloon.

NAGELEISEN HAD STARTED.

Was Wanted in New Orleans But Another Catcher Was Secured.

St. Paul, May 8.—Just where Louis Nageleisen, Toledo's third catcher, will eventually find himself is a matter of conjecture as the result of the happenings of the past twenty-four hours. Yesterday Hartsel received an S. O. S. from Manager Frank of the New Orleans club, asking for the Hen's extra backstop. The catcher packed his grip in a hurry and immediately boarded a rattler for the south.

After he was on the way several hours Manager Hartsel received a second telegram to the effect that the Pelican backstopping situation had been remedied. It was received too late, however, to head off the Hen.

If Manager Frank has no use for him it is expected that he will be immediately returned to the Toledo club.

COMING TO LOOK AT SPRING WORK

Ad Wolgast Will Look Over the Farm and Then Back to Coast.

BOXES AT BENEFIT

Cadillac, Mich., May 8.—Letters have been received here indicating that Champion Ad Wolgast will come east to look over the spring work on his big farm here before his fight with Joe Rivers.

He is expected to arrive here May 21 and remain until June 1, coming from St. Joseph, Mo., where he will put on a six-round no-decision bout.

Immediately following his bout with Ritchie at Los Angeles on May 11 Champion Wolgast, his wife, Tom Jones and Hobo Daugherty will start for St. Joseph, Mo., where Wolgast will take on a youngster to benefit Frank Parker, a friend to him during his hardest days. For this the champion does not ask a cent. He hints at paying off some more debts of gratitude he owes to some of the "old timers," as he styles them. "I'm no philanthropist, but I've got a warm spot in my heart for my friends," says the champion.

Following his bout with Ritchie Wolgast will not have an idle moment out of the training schedule. That's why Hobo Daugherty is taken along, for as the champion's party is speeding eastward to St. Joseph the two will mix it in the "baggage car ahead," so the champion will be in the pink of condition all the time. The baggage car will be fitted with a punching bag platform, weights, dumb bells and other things to keep the champion busy. Even from St. Joseph homeward bound the champion will not neglect training.

All this tends to show that he has the highest regards for little Jose Rivers, whom he meets on July 4.

The Michigan Wildcat gives one of his reasons for coming home. He is after Johnny Sheridan, his discoverer and early trainer, to return to the coast with him and take charge of his training camp.

"If the operation for appendicitis weakened me any I have been unable to find the soft spot," said the Cadillac boy after seven days in the mountains. "I am perfectly satisfied with myself and am ready to get back to the old ring grind again."

DRUGGISTS HERE FROM OVER STATE

Opening Program of Rexall Meeting Held This Afternoon.

TO ATTEND THEATER

With nearly a hundred druggists in attendance, the annual convention of the Indiana Rexall club opened at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Wayne hotel. Delegates are present from nearly every prominent city in the state, and among those on the program for the opening session are a number of the most prominent drug men in the United States. The convention will continue until Thursday evening and will close with a banquet.

The opening session this afternoon consisted chiefly of discussions relative to the different merchandise handled by modern drug stores. The meeting was called to order by President G. H. Heine and after the preliminary business had been transacted, the subject, "Candy in a Drug Store" was discussed by W. G. Valentine, of Terre Haute. General discussion followed.

H. W. Taylor, of Boston, director of the United Drug company's candy factory gave a little history of how the candy business has grown to a mammoth institution, occupying a large building devoted entirely to candy. Mr. Taylor was formerly in the drug business in the west but left to accept a place with the United Drug company. He first worked in the stationery department and later went to St. Louis as manager of the branch office. Recently he was appointed director of the candy department.

Big Druggist Here.

Among others on the afternoon's program was Henry J. Huder, of Indianapolis, proprietor of the largest drug store in the capital city. He spoke at some length on the line of toilet goods handled by the most modern drug stores. The subject, "Stationery in Drug Stores" was discussed by W. P. Johnson, of Greenfield, Ind. "The Drug Store Cigar Counter" was the subject of an address by Frank Streibel, of South Bend, and Arthur Beuke, secretary of Meyer Bros. Co., of this city, spoke on "Soda Fountains."

Other speakers and their subjects were as follows: "Photographic Goods," Charles O. Pritzenman, of Muncie; "Advertising a Drug Store," A. R. Otis, of Kendallville; "Drug Store Window Displays," O. N. Bohm, of Evansville; "Salespeople in a Drug Store," F. W. Meisner, of Laporte; "Our Drug Store Arrangement," Jenny Torrence, of Anderson.

Oscar Bradley, of the firm of Bradley Bros., which operates stores at Huntington, Wabash, Marion and Fort Wayne, opened the discussion of the subject, "Unusual Side Lines in Drug Stores."

Attend Vaudeville.

The first session closed late this afternoon and the delegates took opportunity to go about the city on a tour of inspection. This evening those present will be entertained at the vaudeville at the Temple theater.

The business sessions will be held Thursday morning and afternoon and the meeting will close with a banquet tomorrow night at the Wayne hotel. G. H. Heine, state president, will preside as toastmaster.

Indiana Rexall Club.

The Indiana Rexall club is a body of Indiana druggists representing every city in the state. Only druggists who deal in the Rexall goods are eligible for membership and the purpose of the organization is to meet at regular intervals for the discussion of general topics of interest to the trade and for the exchange of ideas tending to improve the business and lift it to new standards of efficiency. This getting together means almost as much to the public as it means to the druggists, as the public is directly benefited by the knowledge of the druggists, who go home from the meetings each year filled with new ideas which will enable them to better serve the people.

Preparations for the convention here started months ago when President Heine appointed chairmen of different committees, each of whom in turn secured men from different parts of the state to speak on many subjects of interest.

Rexall was originated by Louis K. Liggett, of Boston, president of the United Drug company. Mr. Liggett was for years employed as a traveling drug salesman and visited stores in all parts of the country. Almost daily he met conditions that distressed and disgusted him, and among them were impure preparations, fake remedies, false claims and small-minded and unfair attendants. His plain started soon after finding such conditions and as time went on he began to work out his ideas, until now the movement is known the world over. Mr. Liggett is in the city for the convention of handlers of the line in Indiana, and is addressing the delegates on subjects of vital interest to the profession.

PREPARING TO GREET VETERANS

South Bend Will Be Ready for Annual G. A. R. Encampment.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

South Bend, Ind., May 8.—Extensive preparations are being made here by the joint committees of the chamber of commerce and Auten post, No. 8, Norman Eddy post, 579, and Notre Dame post, 569, for the entertainment of the 33rd annual encampment of the department of Indiana, G. A. R., which takes place May 21 to 23, both inclusive. Despite the fast depleting ranks of the Grand Army it is calculated to make this one of the greatest encampments in the history of the state.

The department of Indiana, G. A. R., is composed of 356 posts, and a total membership of 12,218 in good standing. Each of the posts will send delegates, and it is expected that a considerable portion of the membership will also attend, besides numerous veterans who are not members, and citizens who are not veterans. Sufficient accommodations for all delegates and visitors are being arranged for and the program will be full of life and entertainment from beginning to end.

The annual parade will take pleae on Wednesday, May 22, with Chief of Staff David Strouse, of post No. 9, Rockville, in charge. Chief Bugler J. W. Clemson, post No. 7, Crawfordsville, will be at his command with sufficient band music to enliven the veterans' steps. The line will form at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and it is expected that there will be at least 6,000 veterans in line. Edward P. Chapin, of local post No. 8, will be officer of the day, and John S. Steele, of local post No. 579, will be officer of the guard, during the encampment and have power to detail from their spective posts such assistants as are needed.

Among the bands in the line of march will be Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home band of 34 pieces, from Knightstown, declared to be second to no boys' band in the country, and which is conceded everywhere to be an honor to the state and the state department, it having served as a special attraction to a number of encampments in other jurisdictions.

Commander-in-Chief Coming.

Commander-in-Chief H. M. Trimble, of the national department, with headquarters at Princeton, Ill., will be here, and as given out from the state headquarters the committee on credentials will consist of J. R. Fesler, assistant adjutant general, Indianapolis; Flavious J. Van Voorhis, post 17, Indianapolis, and Orlando A. Somers, post 55, Richmond, senior vice commander; F. M. Van Pelt, post 244, Anderson, patriotic instructor, and Newton M. Taylor, post 369, Indianapolis. The committee will report to J. R. Fesler at camp headquarters here the afternoon of the 21st, and continue their sessions until the encampment begins.

The election of officers will be held Thursday morning, May 23, at 8:30 o'clock, at which time will also be an election of delegates to the national encampment. Campfires will be held in the evening following the parade, for which ample halls are being arranged.

The matter of transportation has been taken up with the Central Passenger association by a proper committee, and reduced rates over the steam and electric roads are certain to result.

Louis La Dauer, post 106, Valparaiso, and Jacob Sheffer, Post 62, Williamsport, have been made aides on the staff of Department Commander Dan Waugh, whose membership is with post 203, Tipton.

MAKES PLEA FOR JUST REGULATION

Receiver of Wabash Says Roads Are "Starved" by Low Rates.

MASTER MECHANICS ARE IN SESSION

New Lake Shore Power House at Elkhart to Cost $600,000.

In response to the question "What is the matter with the railways?" F. A. Delano, former president of the Wabash and now receiver for that road, made a notable address before a convention of Michigan business men and manufacturers recently in which he virtually said that there is nothing the matter with the railways, but that there is much the matter with conditions that have been made for them and which are having a vital effect on their development and prosperity.

Mr. Delano is regarded one of the ablest and most progressive of the great railway men of America. While admitting that railway corporations should be subject to regulation, he says that the important question is how for that regulation should go. The shippers of the United States have been hampered by lack of facilities which are not the fault of the railroads, in his opinion.

He declared that the railroads have been "starved by reduction in rates, by increase in taxes, wages and cost of materials to a point where the margin between income and outgo has been diminished to an alarming extent.

"Even the strongest and most fortunate railroads of the country have suffered a serious shrinkage in net earnings," he said, "and their credit has thereby been impaired.

"My conclusion is that the only remedy in the situation is co-operation. The railways do not complain of supervision so long as that supervision is intelligent and takes a fair share of the responsibility for its acts."

NEW LAKE SHORE POWER HQUSE.

Structure to Cost $600,000 Being Erected at Elkhart.

It has been officially announced that the work on the construction of the new $600,000 power house which is a part of the Lake Shore's $3,000,000 railroad shops being erected in Elkhart, will be completed by the latter part of August, and that all of the machinery will be installed in the power house before October 1, 1912.

After the power house is completed, work will immediately start on the big machine shops. It is believed that it will take at least a year's time to build the machine shop. The foundation for this building has already been made, but a long time is required in erecting the steel construction.

PENNSY SHOPMEN INJURED.

E. Lore, a heater in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, was struck on the forehead by a heavy sledge yesterday afternoon and will be unable to work for a few days. W. Zwiek, of the same shop, had a thumb badly lacerated by the slipping of a wrench this morning, and was compelled to return home. F. Wisniewski, a laborer on the night force, sustained a sprained back while engaged in lifting some heavy machinery and is off duty.

The booths are made of solid concrete and weigh about 4,000 pounds each. It is thought that much time can be saved by the use of the new system.

Modern Miracle.

The patient was a man 77 years old, with a cataract of eight years' standing. While at work in his garden one day the patient had occasion to rub his right eye several times on account of sweat which had trickled into it. He awoke next morning to find that the sight of his right eye was restored. His wife and neighbors also remarked that his eye no longer looked gray. On examination by a doctor five days later nothing was to be seen of the lens till the patient looked down, when it was seen as a gray, shining body floating in the vitreous humor at the bottom of the eye, where it moved with the movements of the eye.—The Lancet.

OPENS FIRE ON MUNCIE DOCTOR

Man Supposedly Insane is Held on Charge of Intent to Kill.

SOME INDIANA NEWS

Muncie, Ind., May 8.—Dr. H. P. Franks escaped death or serious injury last night when Lowell Reid, believed to be insane, fired three shots at the physician, whom he claims was responsible for the death of his wife. Reid went to Dr. Franks' office and invited him to the outskirts of the city to settle their trouble. As the doctor went to the street, intending to go home, Reid fired wildly, all shots missing their mark.

Reid's wife was treated by Dr. Franks before her death. She died while under anesthetics before an operation was performed. The coroner's verdict was that she died from a ruptured heard.

Reid is being held charged with shooting with intent to kill.

COMMITTEE TO BUY COAL.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 8.—The Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators association tonight adopted a resolution authorizing a special committee to purchase and distribute Kentucky and West Virginia coal among the members of the association in order to protect their standing contracts. The operators also upheld the stand of the association in the recent joint conference with the miners and decided to stand firm for the demand that the miners resume work pending a settlement of the wage contracts.

SORRY HE FAILED TO KILL.

Indianapolis, May 8.—Harry Heaston yesterday shot and seriously injured Mrs. Bertha Massey, who he said was dividing her attentions with another man and afterwards told the police that he was sorry that he failed to kill her. Henston is being held with shooting with intent to kill.

He told the police that she laughed at him after he had abandoned a sick sister and crippled brother, spent his savings of $2,000 and pawned his clothing to provide for her. She had told him that he was "easy," according to his story. They recently came here from Marion, O., and have been living together as husband and wife.

SETTLES IN FULL WITH STATE.

Michigan City, Ind., May 8.—Elmer W. Stout, of Indianapolis, receiver for the Ford & Johnson company, a $3,000,000 concern, with chair and furniture manufacturing plants here and elsewhere, including a factory inside the state prison, has cleared up the company's indebtedness to the state of Indiana, paying to Warden E. J. Fogarty $10,250, which the failed concern owed the state for convict labor before the company was thrown into the hands of a receiver three weeks ago. As a result the 300 convicts taken off the chair contract before the receivership was inaugurated will be put back to work tomorrow. The federal court permitted Mr. Stout to borrow sufficient funds to pay the state to operate in a limited way.

MULRY GETS LAETARE MEDAL.

South Bend, Ind., May 8.—The Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president of Notre Dame university; the Very Rev. Andrew Morrisey, provincial of the Holy Cross order, and the Rev. John F. Degroote, C. S. C., will go to New York Thursday, where they will formally present the Laetare medal to Thomas M. Mulry, banker and philanthropist and president of the St. Vincent DePauw society, on behalf of Notre Dame. The Rev. Father Degroote and the Rev. Father Cavanaugh will also go to Princeton, N. J., and will assist in the installation of the new president of Princeton.

FACE TRIAL NEXT MONDAY.

Hartford City, Ind., May 8.—Fred and Nelson Edwards, charged with first degree murder for the killing of Harry Leonard, who was beaten to death Sunday morning while on his way to his home in Upland, will be given a preliminary hearing next Monday. Fred Edwards is alleged to have wielded the beer bottle with which Leonard's skull was crushed.

SETS NEXT WHITECAP TRIAL.

Bloomington, Ind., May 8.—Just before the adjournment of the April term of circuit court Judge James B. Wilson set another one of the Monroe county whitecap cases for trial at the June term. The case next to be tried will be that of William Snoddy. He is a brother of Tobe Snoddy, who was convicted at the January term and sentenced to the Michigan City prison. The trial is set for June 24.

MARTTENE IS VICE PRESIDENT.

Indianapolis, May 7.—The Piano Merchants Association of Indiana yesterday after discussing business affairs elected the following officers: F. L. Paige, Terre Haute, president; M. J. Marttene, Fort Wayne, vice president; A. T. Rapp, Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer.

PROBE WHITE SLAVE CHARGE.

Indianapolis, May 8.—The federal grand jury yesterday began an investigation of "white slave" charges which resulted in the arrest of Guy Brewer, of this city, and Annie Glunt and Florence Morris, of Cumberland, Md. Three other women from Cumberland are said to have testified yesterday.

HUNTINGTON MUST WAIT.

Washington, May 8.—The citizens and commercial bodies of Huntington that are demanding the construction of a new federal building there are barking up the wrong tree. The treasury department informs Representative Rauch and the Indiana senators that there are 296 building appropriations already authorized that are awaiting their turn and that if congress were to make an appropriation for Huntington at this session no time would be gained, as it would be twenty-two months before even the drawings could be begun.

THE OLYMPIC HERO.

NO ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body * * * *." He continues, "so we may be said to live (through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

MRS. MURREN.

"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast-bone," writes MRS. G. M. MURREN, of Corona, Calif. "Had suffered from it, off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart-burn, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver. I did not dare to eat as it made me worse. Whenever I swallowed anything it seemed that I would faint—it hurt so. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. Was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took five bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. To-day I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat everything and have put on flesh wonderfully. I will say to all sufferers write to Dr. Pierce. He has my undying gratitude."

News Item: Washington, D. C.—(Special)—The long fight for the direct election of United States senators by the people is won. The house of representatives will recede from its attitude toward the legislation and adopt the senate bill.

The people's preference will always assert itself sooner or later. They know, or learn, in time what is best for them and usually see that they get it. To that can be attributed the constantly increasing following of this good clothes shop.

KIND DEED IS NEVER LOST

Though Perhaps Not Immediately, Its Good Results Are Certain to Be Recorded.

Sometimes we become restless and impatient because we do not immediately see the result of our generosity. We seem to think that whatever aid we are able to give should work miracles before our eyes, and we are not content to believe that somewhere and somehow somebody's burden has been lightened because of our faith and generosity.

Sooner or later, often when we least expect it, our deeds of kindness come back to us a thousandfold. They may not be repaid in substantial coin, they may not even bear the stamp of our generosity, but they pour their blessings into our lives with rich interest and help us to understand the readjustment of our natures. It is a fine thing to be in a position to give freely and generously of those riches which, after all, are only ours during our stewardship, but it is just as gratifying and just as ennobling to give proportionately of the more modest means which some of us command. We are not judged by what we give so much as by the manner in which we give it, and happy, indeed, is he who is not afraid to give generously even of his small means. Our charities may not sound around the world, but they are heard by some poor sufferer close at hand, and what greater blessing and what richer recompense can we ask?

Illiteracy in Foreign Armies.

The returns showing the educational attainments in the Swiss army are less pleasing than those of Germany, the illiterates in the land of philosophy being only .02 per cent. In Switzerland a little more than one per thousand were unable to read, and one in a hundred read with such difficulty that they could not comprehend what they had read. Still this is better than investigations made in France show. The Temps concludes that the insufficiently instructed amounted to 16.5 per cent and the illiterates to 8.6, so roughly we have 25 per cent of the French army illiterate. But on the other hand 37.2 per cent held diplomas or certificates and those whose instruction was considered sufficient amounted to 32.7 per cent.

Needed at Home.

A southern lady was drinking tea with a New York friend, and the following talk ensued:

"The fio's are all hahd wood and—"

"You say the noo house is decorated in gold and w'ite?"

"Yes, but mo' like copper than real gold, and the fi's—"

"W'en did you buy your machine, and w'at make is it?"

"Oh, the cyah is a little dahling! Have you seen it?"

"I sawr it in the avenoo. The wheels were w'izzing like lightening. Shall we call Ugh on the wire, or would you prefer visiting that East side school and hearing how they teach the foreign children English? It's a splendid work."

Outlook Promising.

On Sixth avenue, New York, two young women walked behind her, conversing audibly above the roar of the elevated.

"And how are you liking your husband?" asked one.

"Oh, he's steady," returned the other; "he don't drink, he stays home nights, and I kind o' think I'm going to like him."

How fortunate! thought the woman,

TAFT MAINTAINS HIS HAPPY MOOD

President Refuses to Succumb to Strain of Campaign.

ALWAYS AN OPTIMIST

Washington, May 8.—The strain of a strenuous preconvention campaign has cast no cloud over President Taft's happy, sunshiny disposition. His proverbial good nature has been put to the acid test during the last week, but it continues up to the normal standard. It is being demonstrated every day that the United States of America never before had a president of as felicitous a temperament as Mr. Taft.

Only when he felt called upon to use the birch on Theodore Roosevelt did he seem momentarily to yield to sadness, going to that task like a loving father who prefaces the visit to the woodshed with the soothing remark, "This hurts me worse than it is going to hurt you."

With that ephemeral and fleeting exception President Taft has been happy, jolly and everlastingly hopeful all through the contest. He is an incorrigible optimist. The glooms find existence intolerable within a fifty-mile radius of him and, just as Abraham Lincoln was the saddest of all presidents of the United States, William Howard Taft is the most jovial and amiable of the entire list of those who have occupied that seat of the mighty, from the days of George Washington down to the year of our Lord 1912.

President Taft has never believed for a moment that Colonel Roosevlt can beat him in the presidential race. He does not think so now. He never, for the infinitesimal part of a second, has shared the apprehension that has seized many of his followers, even high up in the Taft organization, since Colonel Roosevelt began to walk away with the delegations in the primary states. When those about him have indulged in hearish remarks on this account, the president has responded with a few chapters from the gospel of good cheer.

"It only means," he tells the timorous ones, "that my majority at the Chicago convention will not be as large as we expected at the outset, but there will be plenty of votes to spare. Cheer up!"

After Illinois had "slugged the President over the ropes," and Pennsylvania had "hit him middling hard," the hearts of some of his best and most loyal friends belonging to his immediate political household, sank clear down into their boots. One of them, knowing the president is not a politician and fearing he did not realize the apparent seriousness of the situation, went to the White House to show the president a copy of a letter he had written to a friend.

The letter set forth in detail the dangers that seemed to confront the Taft candidacy.

Letter Brings Hearty Laugh.

"I know," said the writer of the letter to the president, "that you may regard this as a gloomy letter, but I believe you ought to know what I think about the situation."

The president read the letter clear through. Then, with almost a boisterous laugh, he said:

"Yes, you are correct; it's a gloomy letter, all right."

That was the only comment he made as he turned to his duties with a light heart.

No one is going to get William Howard Taft in the dumps. He refuses, positively and firmly, to get stampeded. When his followers go around in a state of blue funk, with drawn faces, he is radiant with hopefulness.

During these warm spring days nearly all of the doors at the executive office building are left wide open so that there may be a free and unlimited circulation of air. Consequently those sitting in the reception room can hear a good deal that goes on in the cabinet room when the president has his family of official advisers around him.

Is he downcast? Well, one would not think so who listens to the peals of laughter that float out of the cabinet room at frequent intervals. The president may have been "slugged over the ropes" and "hit middling hard," but one thing positively certain is that the Taft laugh has not been impaired. It would take more than even Colonel Roosevelt can do to put that laugh out of commission.

The White House attaches tell many interesting stories of the president's amiability and his inclination always to look on the bright side of things. One of the latest is that when Governor Marshall, of Indiana, called on the president recently he spent about a quarter of an hour in the reception room watching a stream of senators, representatives, office-seekers and supplicants for various favors descend like an avalanche on the president, who received them all with a smile and a laugh and a cordial rejoinder of some sort or other which sent everybody away happy.

The story further states that when the president beckoned the Indiana executive into a private room for a confidential talk Governor Marshall opened the conversation by saying very seriously:

"Mr. President, after watching that crowd go after you for 15 minutes, I don't know whether I want to be your successor or not."

This Hoosier joke struck the president under the circumstances as being very funny and he has often repeated it to callers since.

AT 70 TO CHRISTEN FIRST SON.

Francis F. Gallagher and Mrs. Gallagher Have Three Other Children.

New York, May 8.—Francis F. Gallaher, 78 years old, will celebrate with his wife the christening of their first son at their home, 1354 Hancock street, Brooklyn. The infant is four months old and is the fourth child born to Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher.

The ceremony will take place at the Roman Catholic church of St. Martin of Tours, Knickerbocker avenue and Hancock street. The baby will be named Irving John Gallagher.

Mr. Gallagher was first married when quite young. After the death of his wife he remained a widower twenty-five years. He was married to his present wife about five years ago. It was Mrs. Gallagher's first marriage. Mr. Gallagher is president of the King's County Civil Service association.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts freely at each application. For sale by all dealers.

Propitiating Spirits of Rats.

15,000,000 rats have been sacrificed for the sake of the preventive measure against the spread of plague brought forth by the Metropolitan Police board of the city of Tokio. This enormous number of the rodents have been purchased by the authorities from the residents and killed since the first case of the pestilence was discovered in the capital in December, 1902.

Recently a religious service was performed by the officials of the police office for the purpose of consoling the spirits of these dead creatures. These tender hearted gentlemen remembered that the current year is neno-toshi, or "the year of the rat" and that these creatures therefore deserve some defference.

Lame back is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the back, for which you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

Told by the Troubled Tourist

EXPERIENCED that strange haunting feeling creeping over you yet?" asked the Troubled Tourist. "Because if you have, you better take something for it right away. And while we're on the subject I would suggest that the best thing to take is a fishing line.

"That's the ailment. It's the spring fishing fever. Whenever you begin to dream of millers and doctors and brown hackles and cans of bait and brown jugs, to say nothing of feeling so lazy you don't want to do anything for hours but just sit still, that's a sign you've got it and the best thing you can do is to hike for the fishing grounds and fish yourself blue in the face.

"If you can induce some other poor soul to go along with you so much the better. He may not know anything about fishing, he may not care less, but the sight of his misery while pretending that he is having the time of his life will cheer you up immensely. The seasoned city fisherman always insists on getting up about three or four o'clock in the morning, although in the country, where his amateur friend used to fish as a boy, it never seemed to be necessary to start fishing until the middle of the morning.

"But the old salt-seasoned fisherman of the city, having kept his amateur friend up half the night telling him how he has caught fish from the St. Lawrence to California Bay and from the banks of the Saskatchewan to the everglades, some Everglades, insists on rudely disturbing his slumbers long before daylight and on hauling him, protesting, out of bed into an ice-cold, clammy atmosphere.

"HIS BAIT."

"Still dreaming of the happy days when he didn't have to go fishing till ten o'clock in the morning and when he only had to walk five miles to the 'crick' where he could lie luxuriously on the bank and watch the jug—I mean the bottle—I mean the cork—floating on the scarcely rippling surface of the water, the amateur reflects bitterly that that's fishing. This thing the city fisherman puts on his trusting friend is just work.

"The poor, deluded fool shivers himself into his clothes, and about the time they get ready to sit down to breakfast, which would have cheered him up some, his irritatingly cheerful host blithely announces that they won't have time to stop for breakfast, for they have to catch the fishing smack or coal barge or something that is tied up somewhere down in Erie Basin or Jamaica, so they just grab a handful of crackers and cheese and ride three hours and a half on trolley cars till they get to the boat. And on the way the city fisherman never fails to be just as healthy and cheerful and wants to know every five minutes if it isn't fun going fishing and eating crackers and cheese for breakfast just like camping, while all the time the sleep tortured amateur is debating whether plain choking or braining is the best method of murder.

"Finally they reach the boat, after climbing over a few lumber yards and the slippery ends of a few docks, only to find that all the best places have been taken by persons who got up at two o'clock in the morning. They voyage out to the Fishing Banks with the seas breaking merrily over their dangling legs, and every time the man alongside casts his line he catches the amateur over the ear with the lead with the most amazing accuracy. The lead only weighs half a pound, and it might have been worse.

"Every hour or so a rumor floats around that somebody has caught a fish on the other side of the boat, and everybody cheers up. At noon somebody produces a box of sardines and nearly everybody gets one. And along about midnight they get back home, tired but happy—to get back home. Nobody caught any fish, but a perfectly pleasant time was had by all. What?"

PRISONER ASSAULTS PAL.

Convicts Fight While Women Look on and Scream.

Hammond, Ind., May 8.—Two women, screaming and hysterical, an assault by one prisoner on another with murderous intent, a general mixup in which two deputy sheriffs separated the men, marked the departure from the Lake superior court at Hammond, of Lewis Kuzuinski and John Zilkowski, two notorious Chicago crooks, for Jeffersonville, where they will serve a sentence of from five to twenty-one years. They were convicted of robbing the agent of the Lake Shore railroad at Indiana Harbor.

The cause of the fight between Kuzuinski and Zilkowski is said to be due to the refusal of the latter to take all the blame for the holdup, so that the other could be released.

The men were sentenced by Judge Lawrence Becker, and when the deputy sheriffs took them to the cells Kuzuinski struck Zilkowski a blow that dazed him. He then jumped on him and attempted to choke him to death.

The men were separated by George Blocki and Thomas Platt, deputy sheriffs.

In the meantime the two sisters of Kuzuinski began screaming at the top of their voices and drew a large crowd to the courthouse.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by all dealers.

LEFT DANCE HALL TO ELOPE

Instead of Leading the Grand March Man Slyly Takes a Bride.

St. Louis, May 8.—John Smith, one of the owners of the 6600 Delmar boulevard block, was supposed to lead the grand march at the benefit ball given for the University City policemen.

He was not there, and when he reappeared Friday he confessed to his friends that he had eloped with Miss Ruby Clink, of Rockville, Mo., to St. Charles, where they were married.

That night policemen of University City and county officers from Clayton went to Smith's cafe, handcuffed him and took him to the police station, where he was tried and sentenced to entertain the crowd.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. B., writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effectual and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

LADS RISK LIFE IN FLOOD.

Youngsters Are Barely Rescued After Leaping Into River.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 8.—Michael Rust and Walter Stapinski, school boys of Nanticoke, thought they would have nautical sport and constructed a miniature raft, which they floated in an old canal bend.

The high water carried the raft into the raging Susquehanna river, and the lads lost their presence of mind and jumped into the water. Charles Gettinger, a Pennsylvania railroad operator, procured a boat, rowed out in the river and after a hard struggle saved the boys' lives.

WANTS BARGAIN IN HIS COFFIN

Man Finds Fancy Ones Too Expensive and Cheap Ones Poor.

PUTS OFF PURCHASE

Cleveland, O., May 8.—"Judge" Zenas T. Wain, of South Brooklyn, a retired dealer in windmills, who still prefers boots to what he calls "newfangled shoes," and wears knitted wristlets from October to June, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday anniversary by coming to Cleveland to pick out a coffin for himself.

"Judge" Wain spent most of the time when he wasn't shopping at undertakers' establishments in the lobby of the Forest City House, where he met a number of old friends. He said he never felt better in his life, except that he did not relish chewing tobacco so much as formerly. The "Judge" thought this was because the tobacco is not made as good as it was twenty years ago. He had read of pannier skirts, but had seen none in his walk about the city.

It was "Judge" Wain's first trip to Cleveland in more than a year. He got up at daylight and walked two miles to the car line.

It was not because he thought he had not long to live that he wanted to pick out his coffin, Wain told friends at the hotel.

"I've got no near kin," said the "Judge," "and if I leave my funeral to others like as not they'll spend a lot of money foolishly, when it won't do me nor anybody else any good. I want things right, but I don't want a lot of good money wasted on jimcracks."

"Judge" Wain has all the details for his funeral written out and he said that if his plans are not followed to the letter his relatives won't get a cent.

"I want to be put away with my boots on," said Wain, "and I'm going to see to it that they don't split my coat up the back to put it on. Do you know that a lot of coats undertakers have to put on the man the funeral is about are nothing but front? There's no back to them at all.

"I went around to quite a number of undertakers and they showed me a lot of fancy looking coffins, but all of them were too steep. They showed me some they were willing to let go for $25, but I bet they didn't cost more than $2.50 to make. The good ones came as high as $100 or $200, and they weren't worth more than $50, if they were worth that. So I didn't buy.

"You don't suppose, do you, it would be possible to run across a good second hand one somewhere?"

News from Toledo that liverymen there plan to increase the cost of funeral carriages from $4 to $5 each didn't interest "Judge" Wain. He said he had arranged in his will that there were to be no funeral carriages paid for out of his estate.

"Top buggies are good enough to ride to a funeral in," said Wain. "My relatives have all got their own."

"Judge" Wain was much interested in the cost of living in Cleveland. The cost of milk and the new city fish market, just opened, interested him particularly.

"I mind the time," he said, "when there were so many sturgeon in the lake here that folks speared them from boats along shore and piled them up on the beach to use for fertilizer. Sturgeon was so common for eating you could hardly give it away. Now it costs 60 cents a pound smoked and there ain't any fresh sturgeon to be had anywhere. It's pretty good eating, too.

"I talked to quite a few undertakers," he reverted to the coffin, "and they all said funerals don't come any higher this year than they have for some time back. But I thought I might wait a while. There ain't no hurry. I'm feeling hearty, and I guess I'm good for a good many years yet. Maybe prices will come down."

MISS MITTEN, PRETTY AND PLUMP, GOT LOVE LETTERS TWICE A DAY AND CUTE POEMS, BUT THE COLONEL SAID HE COULDN'T MARRY HER 'CAUSE WIFIE WOULDN'T LET HIM.

New York, May 8.—The ardent temperament and fondness for plumpness of Col. Edward Harrison Power, Chicago mine owner and seller of various sorts of stock, is being disclosed at the trial of the $50,000 breach of promise suit of Miss Maud Mitten, who twinkles beyond the footlights as Miss Paula Dana.

Miss Mitten "did" the colonel's finger nails some two years ago. Gazing soulfully into her eyes the colonel—his wife was in the country—murmured that manicuring was no job for such a plump and pretty person.

"Why don't you become a great lady actress?"

"I will," Miss Mitten replied.

"And then I'll marry you," the colonel cried.

Miss Mitten changed her name to Paula Dana, and an actress she became. She says so herself.

The colonel gave to his fancy free

COL. EDWARD H. POWER.

rein. Every time his heart throbbed with love emotion, he sat right down and penned a letter to Paula. That happened 1,400 times in two years. When it throbbed extra hard he wrote her cute poems.

The following are a few stray shafts of the colonel's mailed love as read at the trial:

"My Own Dear Fat Biggest Muddie:

* * * * Do be good and remember there is one here who thinks more of you than anyone else does. You must not tease me. With love and kisses, always yours. ED."

MISS MAUD MITTEN (STAGE NAME, PAULA DANA.)

"Dear Fat Muddie:

* * * * Found a lovely letter awaiting me here—a real Muddie letter just like my fat pal when she is herself. I have enoyed it more than yu can tell me. Do be sweet all the time. If you knew the feeling I have for you and the great interest I have shown in you, you will not find a better and truer friend and a greater admirer.

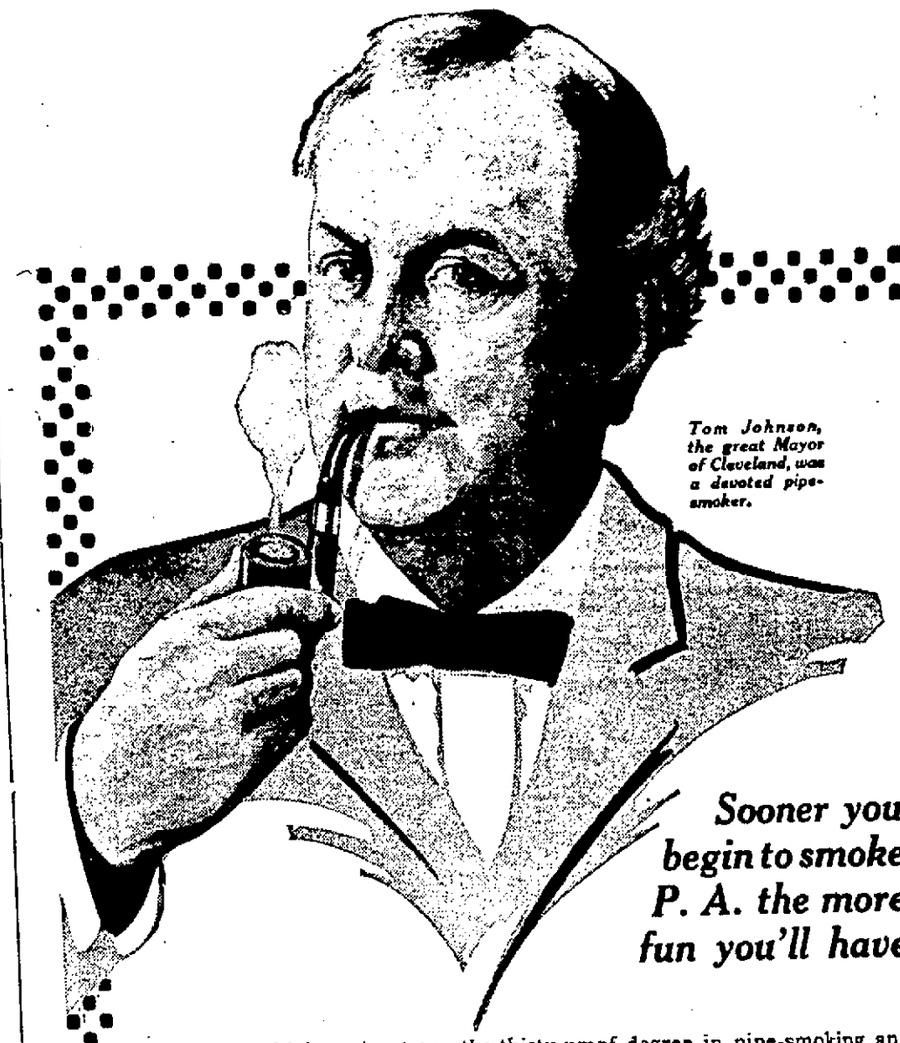
"Your Devoted Ed."

"My Dearest Fat Sweetheart Muddie Pauler:

"The sun went with you yesterday and left the heavens in keeping with my feelings. The floodgates were turned on and poured copious tears all day * * * I will try to see you before Sunday if the following does not kill you. Anyhow, here goes:

"I know a lass with eyes of brown
Who some day will gain great renown.
As an acting lady she will startle the town.
Thinking now she is not great,
There is where she makes a mistake,
Because if only her part she will play
In a natural, inimitable way,
The press and public both acclaim
She is entitled to riches and fame
And overlook her horrible name."

"I want to correct an impression gained from reading those letters," Miss Mitten says. "I am not fat—just nice and plump."



Tom Johnson, the great Mayor of Cleveland, was a devoted pipe-smoker.

Sooner you begin to smoke P. A. the more fun you'll have

Maybe you think you've taken the thirty-umpf degree in pipe-smoking and know all there is to it. You're wrong! This wonderful tobacco puts a new slant on the proposition. You can't know the real fun in smoking a pipe till you've had a heart-to-heart session with Prince Albert. Every day before you try P. A. is a day's good smoking gone. Step into any tobacco store and say, right out loud: "Give me a tin of the national joy smoke."

You won't surprise the storekeeper. He's hearing that more often than anything else. Prince Albert is now the fastest-selling pipe tobacco in the world. It gives you the fun of smoking all you want, often as you want, fast as you want, without a single hint of sting or rankness. Prince Albert can't bite your tongue. Prince Albert is made by an exclusive process that is patented. It is this process that takes out the bite and gives it a new goodness.

Comes in 10 cent tins, 5 cent cloth bags, wrapped in weather-proof paper, handy for cigarette smokers, half-pound and pound humidors of tin and pound ones of crystal glass.

MAKES NIGHT CLERK NERVOUS

Weird Stories Told by Guests in Early Morning Hours Prove a Little Disconcerting.

"Sometimes the night clerk's job has its drawbacks," remarked the tall, thin man behind the desk at the hotel. "These weird tales that guests will tell in the still night"—he went on, "they're one thing that makes a fellow wish there were more people around.

"One night about 2 o'clock, a guest came up to the desk and spent an hour telling me earnestly about the black cat that had been sitting on the foot of his bed. As he talked I noticed the fellow had a queer look in his eye.

"A black cat's nothing but a black cat, but somehow a fellow doesn't want to hear much about 'em in the middle of the night from a nervous man with a queer look in his eye. This man said that the cat came in when the waiter brought his dinner up to the room. Then the cat took a chair at the table opposite him, he said, and tucked a napkin under its chin.

"'I asked it if it didn't want something to eat,' the man added, 'but it said it didn't—politest cat I ever saw.'

"Great line of talk, wasn't it?

"Then he started in to direct a lot of men building a skyscrapper there in the lobby. I couldn't see the skyscrapper, but he did. He had a force of about 400 men hoisting stone and steel, and he bossed the job."

WHEN THE STOMACH CALLS

Feeling Which Common Humanity Knows as Hunger Is Explained Fully by the Scientist.

The answer looks easy. Any small boy, schoolboy or other, would say, "Why, hunger is just wanting something to eat and wanting it bad." But the doctors find that it isn't so easy.

It seems, according to an ex-cathedra utterance in the Journal of the American Medical Association, that emptiness of the stomach has nothing to do with hunger. It is not due to the secretion of any sort of acid in the stomach, nor to congestion of the gastric glands. Professor Cannon, in this article in the journal aforesaid, attributes hunger to contractions of the stomach's muscular walls. In the doctor's words: "Hunger is normally the signal that the stomach is contracted for action; the unpleasantness of hunger leads to eating; eating starts gastric secretion, distends the contracted organ, initiates the movements of gastric digestion and abolishes the sensation." Here's to the abolition of the sensation; may there always be something with which to "start the gastric secretion!"

Mind and Muscle.

As the volume of controllable muscular and mechanical energy at his command has increased, man has found it necessary to use his own muscular energy for purposes of the control thereof, and even to supplement it for this purpose rather than to use it in the actual performance of the tasks themselves. Hence we have the large number of officials in the armies, organized both for warlike and peaceful purposes. In all of these, however, the dominating idea, so far, has been that of increasing the amount of muscular and mechanical energy controlled by one master mind. It is true that many individuals are employed in transmitting directions, in recording operations, etc.; but the central idea permeating everything is that the controlling individual is, or should be, able of himself to initiate every movement and make every decision relating thereto. It has always been a problem of supplementing muscle rather than of supplementing mind.—Cassier's Magazine.

Cook's Accidental Discovery.

One of the best ways of cooking potatoes was accidentally discovered through the unpunctuality of a train. When the line from Paris to St. Germain was opened the first train carried an official party for whom lunch was ordered.

The meal was fixed for noon, and shortly before that hour the potatoes were put on to fry. A few minutes afterward a message came that the train would probably be delayed for an hour, so the potatoes were taken off the fire, but left in the pan. Then came a second message. "Train just arriving," and the potatoes were hurriedly put back to fry again.

When the party sat down to lunch the potatoes were brought on with the steak. Each chip was then found to be blown out like a small, crisp, golden balloon, to the delight of the guests. The cook, without knowing it, had invented pommes de terre soufflees.

Care of the Eyes.

One of the most important things to consider in connection with caring for the eyes is the bath, and this should preferably be of rain or distilled water. A pinch of salt, well dissolved, adds value to an eye bath, and a most soothing wash, which is administered in a little eye-cup that fits over the open eye, is made by dissolving a level teaspoonful of pure boric acid in a quart of filtered or distilled water.

Boric acid must be dissolved in boiling water, and then added to the rest in a quart bottle. Although everybody knows that one eye may often have an ailment not shared by the other, few remember to refrain from using the same cup for both eyes without washing it after the first has been bathed.—Harper's Bazar.

"Dora Thorne" in two reels and Rider Haggard's "Jess" in two reels, all of them real features and as usual will be given first run at the Lyric.

SURE ENOUGH WEATHER SIGNS

Coffee, Pipe and Cane Will Help One to Make a Forecast of the Coming Day.

When you go for your holiday, don't grumble if you find that your newspaper has misled you as to the weather in your particular district, or given you a report too general to be of any use. Instead, use your powers of observation, and be your own weather prophet.

You need go no farther than your own breakfast table to start with. Watch your cup of coffee. When the bubbles collect in the center of the cup and form a "kiss," you can plan that picnic with confidence. When they rush to the side of the cup, you had better go carefully. Rain is not absolutely certain, but it's very likely. Of course, it is the condition of the atmosphere that affects the tiny bubbles.

Your after breakfast pipe will confirm whatever opinion you have formed from your coffee. If you use wax matches you will find that they are specially difficult to ignite. You may succeed the first time, but by striking half a dozen in succession on a morning when rain is to be expected you will use six matches for two times.

You will find further weather prophets waiting for you in the hall, anxious to tell you the news. Pick up your walking stick. If it is hard, and dry, take it with you, even if the sky is clouded. But if the handle is moist, drop it, and take your umbrella. If, fifteen minutes after rubbing the handle with a dry cloth, the moisture reappears, you had better take your raincoat as well, for you are in for a "soaker."

Her Kitchen Alarm.

A New York man was startled last Sunday to hear an alarm clock in action, for the hour was precisely 1 p. m.

"I thought the alarm clock was up stairs," he said to his wife.

Without replying, she hurried to the kitchen. Soon returning, she explained her haste. "I made a suet pudding this morning," she said, "and put it into the oven at nine o'clock. The recipe I used stated that it should steam four hours and no longer. I was afraid I might forget it, so I brought down the alarm clock and set it to go off at one. The plan worked beautifully, for the pudding is done just right."

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid, an irritating, inflammatory accumulation, which gets into the circulation because of weak kidneys, constipation, indigestion, and other physical irregularities which are usually considered of no importance. Nothing applied externally can ever reach the seat of this trouble; the most such treatment can do is soothe the pains temporarily; while potash and other mineral medicines really add to the acidity of the blood, and this fluid therefore continually grows more acrid and vitiated. Then instead of nourishing the different muscles and joints, keeping them in a normally supple and elastic condition, it gradually hardens and stiffens them by drying up the natural oils and fluids. Rheumatism can never be cured until the blood is purified. S. S. S. thoroughly cleanses and renovates the circulation by neutralizing the acids and driving the cause from the system. It strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a sour, weak stream, depositing acrid and painful corrosive matter in the muscles, joints and bones, it nourishes the entire body with pure, rich blood and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. contains no potash, alkali or other harmful mineral, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks of great purifying and tonic properties. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

CUMMINS TAKES WHACK AT TAFT

Sharply Criticises President for Attempt at Coercion.

CALLS HIM MEDDLER

Washington, May 8.—President Taft was sharply criticised in the senate yesterday by Senator Cummins, who charged him with attempting to coerce congress in tariff legislation. Mr. Cummins, speaking in support of his metal tariff revision bill, said he understood the president was opposed to any legislation on the metal schedule until the tariff board reported upon it.

"I deplose the action of a president in interfering in any way with the work of congress," he declared. "I have heard a great deal lately about the recall of the judiciary and judicial decisions, both of which I oppose, but I regard these as inconsequential in comparison with the encroachments of the executive branch of the government in the last few years."

Senator Cummins declared he believes it as improper for a president to attempt to unduly influence courts as for him to undertake his power to influence the judiciary in performance of duty. Although Mr. Cummins spoke directly to his republican colleagues that side of the chamber was not filled while he was speaking.

At one point he engaged in a sharp colloquy with Senator Oliver. Mr. Cummins declared that the Payne-Aldrich law had failed to meet the demands of the people and warned his colleagues of the results of the coming election if congress were adjourned without that law being altered.

"We have won on this issue many times," he said, "but we cannot win again if the duties are higher than necessary to maintain our industries and protect our workingmen."

ROADS FINED ON REBATING CHARGE

Enter Plea of Guilty and Get Maximum Penalty at Chicago.

FINE TOTALS $40,000

Chicago, May 8.—Pleading guilty to having illegally favored certain burlesque companies, three railroads, all of them controlled by the New York Central lines, yesterday were fined $40,000 by Judge Carpenter in the United States district court.

The roads are the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Big Four and the Michigan Central. The Big Four was fined $20,000 for two offenses, while the other roads were fined $10,000 each for single offenses.

At the same time that the government urged that the roads be fined the maximum fine possible, it asked Judge Carpenter to dismiss indictments against two railroad employes. These are William H. Underwood, assistant traffic manager of the Michigan Central, and Harry J. Rhein, who occupies a similar position in the service of the Big Four.

Other Indictments Pending.

There still remain indictments against Rudolph H. Hymacki, secretary of the Columbia Amusement company, and James E. Fennessy, secretary of the Empire Circuit company, which control practically every traveling burlesque theatrical company on the road. These cases have not been set for trial, but according to James H. Wilkerson, district attorney, will be tried shortly.

The fact that the government was after railroads which were giving theatrical firms rebates under the guise of theater advertising was exclusively told in The Record-Herald some months ago. The roads were not indicted for outright rebating, but were indicted for conspiracy to violate section six of the interstate commerce law. This provides that no common carrier shall refund in any manner a part of fares paid as set forth in the published tariff.

Make Plea of Guilty.

Attorneys for the railroads appeared in Mr. Wilkerson's office late yesterday afternoon. Harry A. Parkin, assistant district attorney, and S. H. Smith, chief prosecuting attorney for the interstate commerce commission, represented the government before Judge Carpenter, while Harold Schmitt appeared for the railroads.

"We desire to enter a plea of guilty, your honor," said Mr. Schmitt, smilingly.

"All right," replied the judge.

Then he turned to Mr. Parkin and asked: "What is the hardest we can soak them?"

"The maximum, which we ask for, is $10,000 in each case."

"That's what we will fine them, then," replied the judge.

WILL CARRY IN KANSAS.

Prediction Is Made for Woman's Suffrage in November.

Wichita, Kan., May 8.—A thousand women attended the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Kansas Equal Suffrage association which opened here last night.

Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, and Rev. Olympia Brown Willis, president of the Wisconsin Equal Suffrage association, who took part with Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony and other leaders in the Kansas campaign of a quarter century ago, in addresses predicted that Kansas women would carry the election for full suffrage next November.

TEACH BUSINESS AT SIX.

Illinois School Plans a Novel Venture for Very Little Men.

Rockefeller, Ill., May 8.—A business college for boys, at which they will be admitted at the age of 6 years, is the latest plan of the Sheldon school here.

A building is to be erected at a cost of $70,000, which will be large enough to accommodate 200 boys.

For the first two years it is proposed to give them instruction similar to that in the common graded schools. Beginning with the third year the work will branch out into business method.

THE WAYNE AMUSEMENT COMPANY

Opens to the public tomorrow their beautiful roof garden located at the corner of Main and Court streets.

This new pleasure resort consists of a fine, polished dancing floor, of which Mr. John Rohlman will be in charge. Mr. Rohlman is considered one of the best of masters in this capacity and assures the public a most refined program each week-day evening. Roemhke's orchestra will furnish music. Joining the dance floor is a beautiful garden furnished with tables and chairs, decorated with palms, where refreshments will be served, making an ideal place for one to enjoy fresh air on a hot summer evening.

The building has been equipped with a nelevator, two of the best-improved fire escapes and well-lighted stairways and has been inspected by the state building inspector of Indianapolis, and Mr. Wyss, city building inspector, together with the fire chief, and has been pronounced safe.

In fact, there has been nothing overlooked for the safety and comfort of the public. The management will run a very strict and properly conducted place and look to the most refined people for their patronage.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., May 8.—Wheat trade today put a bearish construction on the government report. July started at $1.12¼ to $1.13½, but rallied to $1.14. Indiana reports of improvement in crops during the last ten days caused a backset. Foreign selling here had likewise a bearish influence. The close was nervous at $1.13⅝@1.13½ for July, a loss of 1¼c.
The small amount of spring plowing done led to an upturn in corn. July opened off at 77c to 77⅛c and then rose to 77½c.
The market continued firm throughout. Closing prices were ½@⅝c higher for July at 77⅞c.
Offerings of oats proved remarkably light. July started lower at 52⅞c to 53c and quickly rose to 53¾@53⅞c.
Provisions were lifted by the strength at the yards. Initial transactions with September options were $19.60@19.72½ for pork, $11.25 to $11.30 for lard and $10.70 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, May 8.—Further selling of stocks was suggested by the heavy tone of the market at today's opening. St. Paul and Canadian Pacific recorded one point declines in the initial dealings and the loss in Union Pacific and American Smelting were almost as great.
There was heaviness in United States Steel, Reading and practically every other issue of importance. Dealings were in moderate volume.
Reading's erratic course was the feature of the first hour. Opening with a slight gain, which was soon lost, the stock immediately reversed itself and was selling at an advance of 1¼ points above yesterday's close. Its strength was helpful to the rest of the list where recoveries were general, which was followed by dullness.
The market continued to show an unsettled tone during the early session. The familiar tactics of recent days, selling of United States Steel were resorted to by the short interests, the stock declining to 64¾ on comparatively small offerings. Union Pacific also was offered at concessions, and St. Paul's weakness was the most conspicuous feature of the granger group. Bonds were steady.
The market closed steady. Some revival of activity was noted in the last hour, Union Pacific touching its best of the day, with greater strength in United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper, American Sugar and American Beet Sugar were the features of the specialties, both rising over 2 points. Reading failed to share in this movement, which was again followed by recessions from the best.

ADOPTS PROTEST WITHOUT DEBATE

Methodists Oppose Action of Ecumenical Mision-ary Conference.

AS TO MISSION WORK

Minneapolis, Minn., May 8.—Without debate, but in a slightly modified form, the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in session here, today adopted the resolution presented Monday by W. F. Rice, of Chile, which protests against the action of the Ecumenical Missionary conference in Edinburg recently, which set aside all Protestant mission work in Greek and Roman Catholic countries and which caused strenuous discussion at that time. The resolution in part is as follows:
"Whereas, in all those lands which form a large part of the missionary field of the Methodist Episcopal church the teachings and practices of Romanism deprive the people of the bible, pervert many of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity and foster superstitions which alienate the thinking classes and bind heavy burdens upon the poor; therefore
"Be it resolved that the Methodist Episcopal church recognize its plain duty to prosecute its missionary enterprises in Greek and Roman Catholic countries with increasing zeal, and
Be it resolved, that it is our duty to oppose the machinations of Romanism and to counteract its attempt to gain an ever-increasing control of our public schools, to use the public funds for sectarian schools and finally
"Be it resolved that we feel the deepest sympathy and love toward the priests and people within the Greek and Roman Catholic churches who are working toward a more spiritual interpretation of the Christian faith."

Cheer Ban On Tobacco.

The conference, in a din of cheering, which lasted for several minutes, also adopted a resolution presented by Rev. Robert Stephens, of Danville, Ill., which prohibits the election of any officer of the general conference, which includes secretaries of boards and editors of church papers, who use tobacco in any form. It is said that the adoption of this ruling may play an important part in deciding some positions in the coming election.
With the beginning today of the second week of the conference the "politics" of the church, which hinges principally on the election of the bishops, is occupying more and more the attention of the delegates.
Conservative leaders place the number of names which will be voted on at the first ballot at 100, while others say that there will be nearer 200. A two-thirds vote of the 850 delegates is necessary for election of a bishop.

SAYS WOMAN'S STORY IS FAKE

Richeson's Lawyer Denies That His Client is a Mormon.

CALLS TALE UNTRUE

Boston, Mass., May 8. "It's a lie," said Wm. A. Morse, attorney for Clarence V. T. Richeson today, in answer to the charge by Mrs. Louie E. Brittain that his client was formerly a Mormon.

"I know Richeson's life very thoroughly, and the statement that he has been a Mormon is wicked, foolish and ridiculously untrue. We have a record in shorthand of everything that Richeson has ever done; I know just what he has done in every year of his life. He was not in Staten Island in 1903, as this woman charges. The story is a foolish fake of the same kind as the letters I get every day from various people, most of them claiming to be messages from heaven. The story is absolutely untrue."

Woman Maker Charge.

Clarence V. T. Richeson, under sentence of death for the murder of Avis Linnell has been a Mormon, and secretly connected with the Mormon organization for years, although preaching from a Baptist pulpit, according to a sworn statement just made before William A. Thibodeau, an attorney and justice of the peace. The author of the affidavit, Mrs. Louie E. Brittain, claims to have been formerly connected with the Mormon church and to have been a celestial wife of a New York man, who is at the head of the Mormon organization in the east.

In the statement Mrs. Brittain asserts that she has known Richeson for several years, first meeting him three years ago at a Mormon conference held on Staten Island, where she says the Baptist clergyman was recognized as one of the Mormon elders and was particularly active in the affairs of the conference.

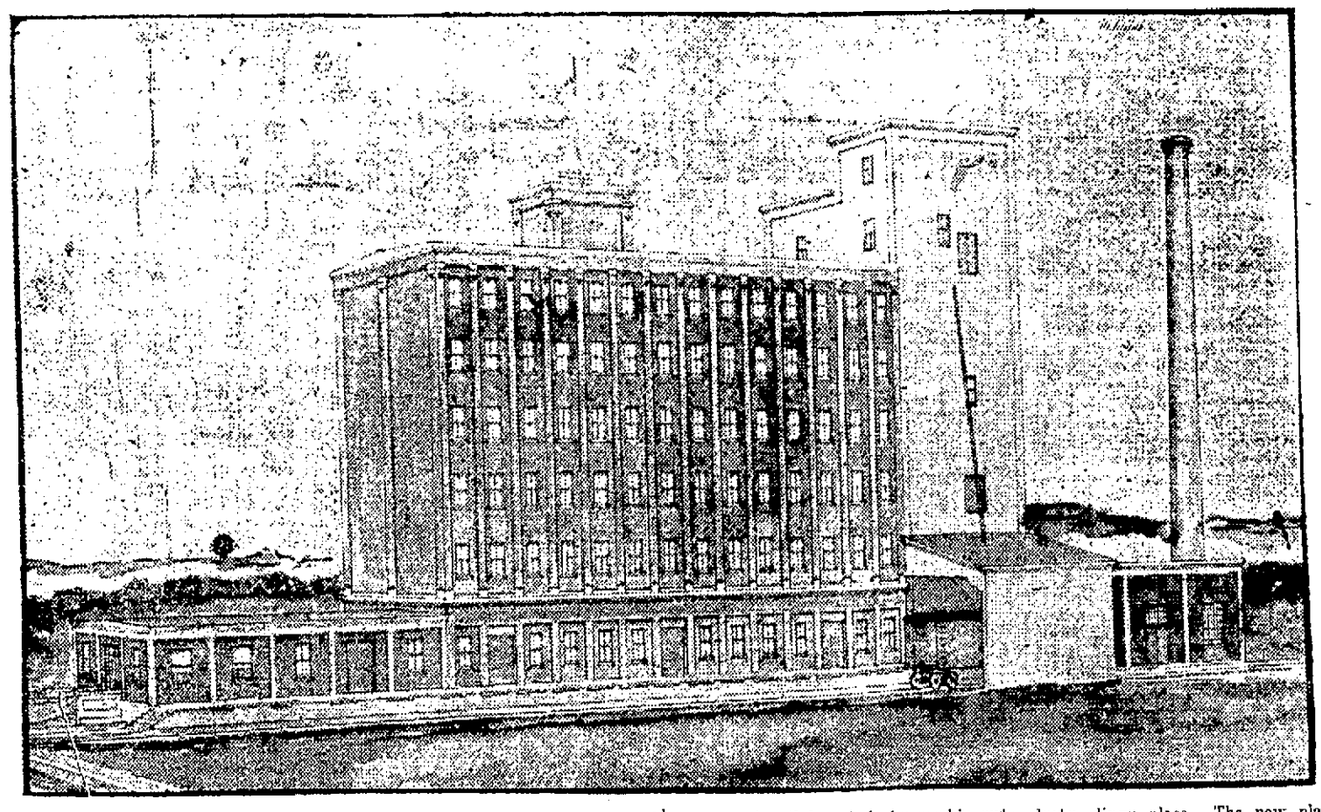
Gave Him Mormon Sign.

She has since seen him many times in and about Boston and has given him the Mormon signs which were always answered, she claims. She says she attended a Mormon conference at Providence, R. I., a little over a year ago, at which Richeson was present and that she received commands from him as a Mormon elder at a Boston gathering of the leaders of the church.

A short time ago Mrs. Brittain became converted from Mormonism, she says. According to Attorney Thibodeau, who gave out the affidavit Mrs. Brittain recently divulged to some of her close friends her knowledge of Richeson's alleged connection with the Mormon church, and was prevailed upon to make the facts known previous to the time set for his execution, as it was felt that the information, if withheld until after his death, would seem unfair.

Mrs. Brittain has become known during the past few years to evangelical workers in and about Boston. In an interview she said that to the best of her belief Richeson was converted to Mormonism while a student at William Jewell college in Liberty, Mo., from which he was expelled in 1889. At that time Richeson became attached to a young woman who makes her home in Salt Lake City. To this young woman is due Richeson's trend toward Mormonism, Mrs. Brittain believes.

Magnificent New Plant of the Mayflower Mills, Now in Process of Erection in Fort Wayne.



The above sketch represents the new plant of the Mayflower Mills, which is being erected at the junction of the Nickel Plate and Grand Rapids and Indiana railway west of the city, and which will occupy a tract of ground four acres in extent.

The designers and builders of the plant are specialists in this line, and have gone to great length to produce an equipment that will embrace economy of manufacture, cleanliness and scientific milling, that will not be excelled anywhere in the United States, and Fort Wayne will be even better known as the manufacturing center of the highest grades of flour than ever before.

The mill building will be brick and heavy mill construction having a capacity of 1,000 barrels per day.

The elevator will be of concrete construction, and will have a capacity of 200,000 bushels of wheat.

The warehouse, boiler and engine room will be constructed of brick and concrete.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad is installing a series of switches to serve the mill, which consist of one main line, which will be 750 feet long, and two storage tracks of 400 feet each, thereby insuring perfect railroad facilities.

The wheat, after arriving at the mill, will be handled automatically. In fact, after the wheat reaches the mill door it will be handled entirely by machinery and will never be touched by hands. The flour will even be packed by an automatic packer.

The plant will have a great many special features not possessed by any other mill in this country, the foremost being a new design of rolls, which so far have been used exclusively in Europe by English and German millers.

The cost and installation of these machines is considerably more than the rolls used in the standard mill, but by their use the operator is able to make a fine, even, granular flour, which is much sought after by critical buyers in Europe, and will also be appreciated by the housewife on this side of the Atlantic.

The general opinion of a flour mill is a dusty, dingy place. The new plant of the Mayflower Mills will be dustless and as clean as human ingenuity can make it. Light and ventilation have been one of the principal things worked for by the engineers.

The mill building will have 172 large windows, which will afford ample light and ventilation in daytime; and at night will be lighted by tungsten lamps, so placed that every part of the mill building will be as light as it is possible to make it by artificial means.

After the mill is completed and in operation a cordial invitation will be extended to the public to visit the plant and to inspect the methods of manufacturing "Newvenno," "Silver Dust" and "Maysell" flours.

STOPS YOUR HAIR FALLING OUT AND DISSOLVES DANDRUFF AT ONCE

Your hair appears soft, lustrous, fluffy and abundant after using a little Danderine

What causes Dandruff, itchy scalp and falling hair? Who cares—so long as Danderine overcomes this—and it does, and quickly too—it does more, it grows hair and we can prove it.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting all over the scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and glimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now all your hair is pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Five special cars will carry the Fort Wayne delegation to the Elks' state convention at Anderson May 23. The first car will leave the interurban station at 7 o'clock on the morning of the 23rd and others will follow at regular intervals.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Get a bottle today and let it do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Today in History.

May 8, 1846, there was a battle at Palo Alto, Texas, that was something more than a maneuver. Then 6,000 Mexicans had crossed the Rio Grande and taken possession of the town. Uncle Sam sent Gen. Zachary Taylor to clear them out, which he did by dint of superior artillery marksmanship. Even to this day the Mexicans show considerable care about staying on the south side of the Rio Grande.

COTERIE OF ACTS SUPERIOR

With Howe's Great London Circus, Coming May 17.

As the seasons come and go, and the people depart from the circus tent, they may be heard to give expression to their amazement by saying: "Well, what won't they do next?" The question is invariably answered when the Great London shows come the next time.

The many features with the Great London circus this year are creating great attention, from the fact that there are so many new and truly wonderful acts offered. Among the coterie are the marvelous Eddy Family, acrobats extraordinary; the startling Jackson Troupe; the Riding Wallets; the wonderful Marie McPhail; Flora Perigina, and a score of other premier acts, together with hundreds of arenic performers. Fort Wayne Friday, May 17.

Mississippi has promoted physical inspection in public schools; Missouri has undertaken a varied and beneficial work for rural child welfare.

COUNTY TEACHERS ORGANIZE.

Form Society to Uplift Educational Conditions in State.

A meeting of Allen county school teachers was held Tuesday night at the office of County Superintendent H. G. Felger, at which time those present adopted temporary by-laws for an organization recently formed known as the Horace Mann alliance. The purpose of the organization is to have an annual and more liberal salary for teachers, to have a uniform term of school throughout the state, to enable school teachers to take concerted action in legislative matters, to uplift the profession of teaching and to better social and educational conditions. The alliance will attempt to get a charter from the state and an open meeting will be held at the court house June 22 for the purpose of further discussing the organization. It is the hope of Allen county teachers to make the organization state wide.

The idea was evolved by Ernest A. Werner, of Washington township. The charter members of the alliance are as follows: Ernest A. Warner, W. E. Metcalf, Samuel J. Brubaker, Raemond Woolever, A. A. Ringwalt, Irvin Tonkel, Paul Wilkie, Forest Houck, L. C. Pratt, H. B. Smith and H. E. Felger. The officers of the association are as follows: Ernest A. Warner, president; W. E. Metcalf, first vice president; Samuel J. Brubaker, second vice president; Raemond Woolever, secretary, and A. A. Ringwalt, treasurer.
